Approval Forecast For State Review of All Taxing Powers

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 20 (AP) — Speedy legislative approval was forecast today for creation of a $75,000 state commission to study possible reshuffling of state, federal and local taxing powers.

A bill to set up an 11-member temporary commission to survey the state's fiscal affairs was introduced by Republican Sen. Walter J. Mahoney of Buffalo, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee.

Gov. Dewey, in his budget message, recommended such a study. He hinted that the Eisenhower administration might hand the states some of the federal government's taxing powers.

Meanwhile, one of the largest insurance companies in the state broke with the field's almost solid resistance to Gov. Dewey's plan for compulsory automobile liability insurance. The firm, Utica Mutual Insurance Company, endorsed the plan as Dewey appealed for "grass roots" support.

Not One Reason

In a speech in Rochester last night Dewey said "no one has advanced a single reason why liability insurance should not be re-

All 391 Pupils Are Saved; 3 Persons Hurt; Teachers Are Praised

Albany, Feb. 20 (AP)—Fire officials explored the ruins of Public School 24 today, seeking the cause of a flash fire that engulfed it after all 391 pupils fled.

Two school officials and a fireman were injured yesterday as the 60-year-old grammar school went up in flames.

The escape of all the pupils was credited to calm teachers, an orderly march out by the pupils and a quick-thinking cop.

A general alarm called out all the city's fire apparatus. Smoke from the three-story brick structure billowed over the south side.

Schools Superintendent John W. Park estimated it would cost 2½ million dollars to replace the building (at Delaware and Dana avenues.) It was one of six old structures scheduled for replacement by two new central schools.

Suffers Broken Leg

Charles A. Snyder, 60-year-old principal, and John Shepard, 55, custodial supervisor in city schools, each suffered a broken leg in jumping from windows. They had been cut off by flames while searching for pupils. They were in fair condition at Albany Hospital.

Fireman John J. Stolz, 45, was struck in the mouth by a whipping high-pressure nozzle. He was treated and discharged.

A dozen pupils were rescued by Patrolman Walton Williams, about 30. He had been in a school office and braved a fiery corridor to dash into a classroom where he heard screams.

Passes Youngsters Out

He kicked panes out of a window and passed 12 youngsters to John McLaughlin, proprietor of a nearby diaper service, who stood outside. He ran to the second floor, found it cleared and met Shepard making the same search. They went to windows, hung by the sills and then dropped about 25 feet. Williams escaped with a jolting.

Snyder dropped about 15 feet from a first-floor window.

Most teachers and pupils thought the fire bell signaled a normal drill.

But 8-year-old Peter Demarco, a second-grader, said "when I smelled the smoke I got scared." He and his classmates pushed

Tobey Says Group Will Be Delayed

'Lot of New Evidence' Put Before Probers; Will Not Discuss It

New York, Feb. 20 (AP)—Sen. Charles W. Tobey (R-N. H.) says public hearings by his Senate probers on waterfront crime and rackets will be delayed two weeks because of "a lot of new evidence."

Hearings by the Senate Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee, of which Tobey is chairman, had been scheduled to start here next week.

Tobey, here for a speaking engagement, announced the delay yesterday. He said his committee has obtained new evidence, not available to the New York State Crime Commission at its recent waterfront hearings, and is engaged in assembling it.

Tobey declined to discuss the nature of the new evidence. He said his committee witnesses would include "some high officials * * *, city, state or national." He also said it was "not improbable" that the witnesses would include Joseph P. Ryan, president of the AFL International Longshoremen's Association (ILA), and William J. McCormack, powerful waterfront employer, both of whom testified before the State Crime Commission.

Hopes for Television

Asked if the hearings would be televised, Tobey said: "I hope so. I'm a great believer in TV, for through it the people can see for themselves."

Meanwhile, Louis Waldman, union counsel for Ryan, made public a letter he had sent to Gov. Thomas E. Dewey last Tuesday urging him to act against televising of the Senate proceedings as a violation of the New York State Civil Rights Law. Waldman contended that if the hearings are televised, the civil rights of ILA members and officers "may be directly involved."

Tobey said his committee's hearings will last about two weeks, and the committee then will move on to Norfolk, Va.; New Orleans, San Francisco, and possibly Hawaii, with "glances at" Boston and Philadelphia.

Missing Children, Bus Driver Found Safe at Farmhouse

Ten Persons Take Refuge From Blizzard; Storm Sweeps Over Great Plains Area

Denver, Feb. 20 (AP)—A radio report to the Sterling, Colo., police station early this morning said that nine school children missing since yesterday in snow-locked northern Colorado had been found safe and unharmed at a farm house.

Sheriff E. M. Brown who led a search party into the area radioed that the children and the bus driver were eating bacon and eggs at the Merle Carey farm, 12 miles northwest of Sterling, when found. They had spent the night at the farm.

It was not immediately known how far the farm house is from where the bus stalled. Other details were lacking. There are few telephones in the area.

The bus had last been heard from at 3 p. m. (MST) yesterday when it made one of its stops between Sterling and the Mount Hope area, a sparsely populated section of small farms.

Had Not Returned

First news that it was lost came from anxious parents who reported their children had not arrived home by evening.

The sheriff took one rescue party out but had to give up the search at midnight because of the severe weather. He reported that even a snowplow was swept off the road and soon buried in snow.

Deaths of three persons were blamed on the storm, which pushed its way into the area Wednesday with winds that reached 65 miles an hour.

The U. S. Weather Bureau here said there had been greater snow depths but not as much sustained wind with a snowstorm in the region since the big one in 1949, which took 17 lives in five days.

Whistling along the eastern slope of the Rockies, this storm shucked off 12 inches of new snow at Cheyenne and nine inches at Denver.

Wheatland, in the central part of Wyoming, got 13 inches of new snow and added to some already on the ground, that made a total of 19 inches. Most snow depths in the area were two to six inches.

Traffic Is Slowed

Auto and air traffic was slowed to a crawl, if not halted, power and telephone lines were blocked out and many rural and small community schools were closed.

The U. S. Weather Bureau in Chicago reported severe blizzard conditions early today over the Great Plains from eastern Colo-

Defense Consolidation Is Effected at Meeting

Advisory Council Is Named, Deputies Are Chosen for Area Job

At a meeting of key personnel and township representatives at the Ulster county court house last night initial steps were taken to consolidate the Kingston and Ulster county civil defense organizations and a committee was appointed to arrange a mass meeting of citizens somewhere in the county in the near future.

Appointment of an advisory council, two associate directors and a number of departmental deputy directors were also announced by Col. Allan L. Hanstein, director of the consolidated council, who presided at the meeting.

The consensus was that the problem and importance of civil defense was not properly understood by the population, that the community must be roused to the danger and stirred to vigorous action.

Hilton Cites Force

Maj. John G. M. Hilton of Saugerties, who has consulted with top state civil defense officials and visited the New York organization with a local delegation recently, startled his hearers with estimates of military strategists as to Russian atomic striking force.

It was estimated, he said, that Russia could mount an atomic air attack of 700 planes, some based in Murmansk, only 3,100 air miles distant, and that these planes were capable of a non-stop, non-refueling trip from Murmansk to New York and back.

A 400-plane strike on certain major cities in this country would result in the probable death of eleven million people, according to official estimates, Hilton stated. He pointed out that the Air Force admitted 70 per cent of the Russian attack would reach its target, even with ground observer stations and radar screening.

Says Danger There

No one knows what Stalin and the politburo will do, he said. "Certainly the danger is there. . . . You can't stop an air attack but the civil population can be warned and its losses cut down." He said that members of the delegation which visited the New York City headquarters of civil defense were "impressed with the utter seriousness of our situation today."

Hilton pointed out that the radar net did not function below 5,000 feet and that in mountainous terrain it was not even effective at that altitude. He said the best defense against an atomic attack lay in the ground observer system which had been called "the eyes of the Air Force."

It should be remembered, Hilton stated, civil defense is on a "full war-time basis." He said he wished the full seriousness of the situation could be "gotten across."

He complimented Mrs. George Dewey Logan, supervisor of the Kingston Ground Observer Post, for the top efficiency attained by the post and pointed out that he was aware of the problems she faced, particularly the matter of obtaining sufficient volunteer personnel to man the station.

Maj. H. Edgar Timmerman of West Shokan presented a vivid description of a test which he saw in which the dropping of an atomic bomb on the Bronx was simulated. He said the paper "solution" was elaborate, each copy weighing seven pounds, and that the problems were tremendous. He said there was a control center in each borough and that in the simulated test the Manhattan center took over when the Bronx center was knocked out.

Says Equipment Effective

Timmerman said 75 pieces of fire equipment laid a "curtain of water" around the stricken area, that an air of seriousness prevailed with "no joking or fooling around." Auxiliary police arrived from Staten Island, Long Island, Westchester, etc., to assist at the scene. A man was rescued from the fourth story of a building in a litter. Forty smoke pots were employed to lay a pall of smoke over the area and bulldozers pushed through debris to rescue persons trapped under fallen timbers and walls. He said the scene was so realistic that "thieving children," planted there, of course, as part of the operation, were apprehended, and the Salvation Army doled out coffee and doughnuts. He said that representatives of city utilities were present to shut off gas, handle electrical problems, etc.,

Allied Soldiers Hit Back at Red Push On West Outpost

Communists Use Smoke to Obscure Moves —B29s Hammer at Supplies

Seoul, Feb. 20 (AP)—Outnumbered allied soldiers, fighting in the haze of Communist smoke shells, beat off two Red attacks on a western front outpost in a bitter, bloody clash early today.

The Reds attacked behind a curtain of more than 1,000 rounds of punishing mortar and artillery fire. Some were smoke shells that hampered allied observation and cast a thick haze over the area for hours.

In the relentless allied air war U. S. B-29 Superforts roared to within five miles of Manchuria in the early morning hours and dumped 110 tons of bombs on a Red communications and supply center.

Allied fighter-bombers roared out a few hours later and bombed Red rail lines and supply centers throughout North Korea. U. S. Sabre jets, screening the aerial blows, damaged two Communist MIGs, the air force said.

Scouted by Planes

The Superfort target area had been scouted by reconnaissance planes, whose pilots reported heavy vehicular activity.

The air force said the 140-acre depot, 20 miles southeast of Sinuiju, contained 350 buildings, a headquarters area, fuel storage tanks, supply dumps and warehouses.

Crewmen reported smoke and flame shot 2,000 feet into the air after a tremendous explosion, indicating a fuel tank had been hit. one pilot counted more than 40 fires.

The Reds hurled anti-aircraft fire and night fighter attacks at the raiding Superforts. The air force did not say if either side suffered damage or loss.

The U. S. Eighth Army today confirmed that warplanes "presumed to be" allied killed three U. S. soldiers and wounded five Feb. 2 in a mistaken bombing behind the U.N. lines in western Korea. The bombed unit was a battalion headquarters of the U. S. Seventh Division.

Allied artillery caught 100 Chinese in the open southwest of Kumsong, on the central front, this afternoon. Observers reported 30 killed.

Chinese Are Spotted

Low-flying single-engine observation planes had spotted the Chinese.

Allied troops beat back the first Red attack on the western front in a bitter 80-minute fight. Three hours later, more than 100 Chinese Reds struck again from the south, north and west. UN troops fought them off in a battle that raged for an hour and a half.

The Communist smoke screen prevented a count of Red casualties, but allied officers said the intensity of the fights indicated "considerably enemy killed and wounded."

Marine Corsairs destroyed 30 supply shelters in a low-level bombing attack northeast of Kaesong on the western front while Fifth Air Force fighter-bombers blasted rails and highways in a strike northwest of Kaesong.

Navy's High Altitude Suit

This pressure suit can protect a jet or rocket pilot at altitudes up to 100,000 feet—nearly 19 miles—in case he is forced to bail out in thin atmosphere bordering on outer space. It was developed for the U. S. Navy by B. F. Goodrich Company in Akron, Ohio. As shown, hose lines are connected for pressure measurements. The flexible suit carries its own supply of oxygen and air under pressure, and inflates automatically.

Canada Cuts Income Tax, Budget Balance Cited

Counts on Billion Gain in Economy; Slash Made in Many Assessments

Ottawa, Feb. 20 (AP)—The government, counting on a billion dollar bulge in its booming economy this year, has ordered at 11 per cent cut in personal income taxes.

Finance Minister Douglas Abbott, in placing the budget before Parliament last night, said Canada could afford to slash 243 million dollars in taxes, spend more, and still balance the budget. He estimated the value of all goods and services produced by Canadians will increase to a record 24 billion dollars this coming year, up one billion dollars over the past year. Canada's mining, forestry and manufacturing industries are booming.

The opposition Progressive Conservatives assailed the budget as an election year bid to return the Liberal government of Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent to power. Most politicians expect an election this year, Oct. 5 being the date most frequently mentioned.

Taxes Are Slashed

The budget slashed corporation taxes, eased cigarette taxes by four cents a pack and cut out nuisance taxes on checks and an unpopular $2.50 license fees on radio's, besides providing a 11 per cent cut in personal income levies beginning July 1.

Fay Regards Things As About Normal

Says Capital Is Reacting to Seasonal Trend, All Are Bragging

By ELTON C. FAY
(AP Military Affairs Reporter)

Washington, Feb. 20 (AP)—This is the season when the picture turns grim and things are in a hell of a fix.

It is the time when each of the armed forces tells how good it is.

And it is, perchance, the time of budget-making. It happens every year, in peace and war, in every administration.

Some years there are mysterious rumors of foreign submarines cruising off American shores. Other years there are vapor trails from high-flying, unseen, unknown aircraft above the northern defense perimeter. And some years people just sit down and add up all the military and diplomatic perplexities and intelligence estimates and come up with a broad and brooding black picture.

Happened Only Yesterday

Only yesterday a group of congressional leaders emerged from a White House session with military, intelligence and National Security Council officials—speaking cryptically but apprehensively of the briefing they had. It was nothing

Bridges Has Views HST Made Error

Truman Gave Wrong Figure, Senator Feels —Expects Review of Program

Washington, Feb. 20 (AP)—Sen. Taft (R.-Ohio) said today the Eisenhower administration has been saddled with a "terrific burden" of proposed long-range military spending in its efforts to balance the budget.

But he and Sen. Millikin of Colorado, chairman of the conference of all Republican senators, predicted that spending will be cut and an increase avoided in the 275 billion dollar legal debt limit.

"I'm sure he will not lift the debt limit," Millikin told interviewers. "If we went on the Truman budget we would have to increase it, but we're not going on the Truman budget."

Taft, GOP Senate leader, said the public ought to know "just what a terrific burden was left to us by the Truman administration" with its spending plans—as represented not only in the $78,600,000,000 budget former President Truman sent to Congress for the year beginning July 1, but in five-year planning for military outlays.

Bridges Gives Opinion

Supplementing this, Chairman Bridges (R.-N.H.) of the Senate Appropriations Committee said there is a possibility that former President Truman under-estimated spending for the next year by 2½ billion dollars. That would put the prospective deficit, by Truman's figures, at over 12 billions.

The New Hampshire senator said he understands the military services plan to spend—out of money already voted them by Congress—2½ billions more than Truman estimated.

Taft said Budget Director Joseph M. Dodge, at a White House briefing for congressional leaders yesterday, had outlined the long-range military spending plans of the Truman regime and estimated that if they were followed the national debt would rise to 300 billions in 1958.

Would Require Boost

That would require an increase in the present 275 billion dollar debt limit, a move the Eisenhower administration is determined to avoid.

Under the Truman plans, Taft said, military spending would not reach its peak until next year and would then taper off with a budget balanced at 63 billion dollars in 1953.

The Ohio senator already has said he expects the new Republican administration to review the entire military program, indicating that he hopes some concrete recommendations for savings can be made by May 1.

Dodge has called for reports from department heads by March 4 on spending cuts they can recommend in their fields. However, he is understood to have been met in some instances with requests from military officials for more money, not less.

To Work on Supplement

Bridges' committee plans to go to work Monday on a supplemental appropriations bill, the first money measure this session.

The House passed it yesterday after cutting sharply the $2,313,719,590 asked by Truman, who sent up the requests before he left the White House. The House sliced the bill to $925,172,920. Most of the reduction came through elimination of $1,200,000,000 asked to pay a military pay raise voted last year by Congress. The House told the Pentagon to find the money out of funds already on hand. Many Democrats contended this was only a bookkeeping affair rather than a real saving.

The House put back in the bill 20½ million dollars for federal grants to school districts hit hard by defense projects. The vote: 197-18.

Truman had asked 24 millions for this but the House Appropriations Committee cut out all of it in sending the bill to the floor.

Probers to Check on Police in New York About Civil Rights Procedure; Have Leads

Washington, Feb. 20 (AP)—Congressional probers moved into New York city today to find out if police there had a holiday from normal procedures of federal civil rights investigations.

Robert A. Collier, chief counsel of a House judiciary subcommittee, said he has appointments with Mayor Vincent Impellitteri and Police Commissioner George P. Monaghan.

Collier said his staff will follow up leads developed in testimony yesterday when two New York Democrats, Reps. Powell and Dollinger, demanded that Monaghan be "fired immediately." They said Monaghan was bringing "disgrace" to New York city.

Collier said information turned up within the next few days will be used in determining what witnesses will be called later.

"What we want to find out," said Collier, "is whether there has been any deviation in the normal process of federal investigation of violations of civil rights laws in New York city."

The committee took a look yesterday at two communications found in Justice Department files. These led to charges that New York city's top police officials made a deal with Justice officials to block the FBI from checking up on civil rights cases. The idea, as outlined, was to maintain smooth operations between the federal and local agencies.

Monaghan has denied the FBI ever agreed to ignore charges of police brutality. The FBI declined comment.

Powell contended that James M. McInerney, who was then assistant attorney general in charge of the Criminal Division, made the arrangement last July with Monaghan and two of his top aides, Chief Inspector Conrad H. Rothengast and First Deputy Police Commissioner Frank Fristensky, Jr.

The agreement was "abrogated," Powell told the committee, when James P. McGranery discovered it four days before he stepped down as attorney general. McGranery was succeeded by Herbert Brownell, Jr. with the inauguration of President Eisenhower's administration Jan. 20.

Rep. Javits (R-NY) also criticized the New York Police Department for what he called disregard of the civil rights of minority groups in the metropolis.

The development, he said, "is corruption beyond corruption."

Six New York city policemen were called before a Federal Grand Jury today to testify in an investigation of alleged police brutality last August against a Negro in a police station.

In New York yesterday, delegates of 30 Negro and white civic organizations demanded the dismissal of any officials responsible for any police-FBI deal on Civil Rights cases.

NATO Council Will Provide 224 Millions for Ridgway Use

Paris, Feb. 20 (AP)—The NATO Council in a surprise move has promised Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway 224 million dollars more for 1953 European military construction—money it denied him last December. Now the council has to figure out which country will pay how much.

Allocation of the additional 224 million — matching the same amount approved at the council meeting last December—was announced last night by Lord Ismay, British secretary general of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The new allotment gave Ridgway, NATO's supreme commander, a bonus. In December he said 428 million dollars was the minimum needed for 1953 construction of air bases, jet fuel pipelines, communications and headquarters installations in western Europe. The council then allocated only 224 millions.

Ismay said the council had not solved the important problem of how to split the new allocation among the NATO members. "We are trying to avoid the sordid business of bargaining around the table," he added.

The December economy move drew sharp criticism from Ridgway, who called it a lack of imaginative planning. He said a slackening of the NATO defense effort could not be excused.

Military planners felt that projects should be pushed during good construction weather this spring and summer. Commenting last night on the increase, a spokesman at Ridgway's headquarters said: "Too bad it's come two months too late."

The spokesman, who asked that his name not be used, said "pressure must have been heavy" for the bigger allocation because the military authorities had not expected it to be announced before the scheduled April 23 meeting of Atlantic Pact foreign ministers.

With sums previously authorized, 562 million dollars has now been set aside for the 1953 NATO building program.

Taylor Is Briefed

Central Front, Korea, Feb. 20 (AP)—Lt. Gen. Maxwell Taylor, U. S. Eighth Army commander, was briefed by Maj. John Eisenhower—son of the President—on a tour of frontline infantry positions on the Korean central front today. The Eighth Army commander has been spending two out of every three days at the front to familiarize himself with the men, units and commanders.

He pointed out that the Air Force admitted 70 per cent of the Russian attack would reach its target, even with ground observer stations and radar screening.

Says Danger There

No one knows what Stalin and the politburo will do, he said. "Certainly the danger is there. . . . You can't stop an air attack but the civil population can be warned and its losses cut down." He said that members of the delegation which visited the New York City headquarters of civil defense were "impressed with the utter seriousness of our situation today."

Hilton pointed out that the radar net did not function below 5,000 feet and that in mountainous terrain it was not even effective at that altitude. He said the best defense against an atomic attack lay in the ground observer system which had been called "the eyes of the Air Force."

It should be remembered, Hilton stated, civil defense is on a "full war-time basis." He said he wished the full seriousness of the situation could be "gotten across."

He complimented Mrs. George Dewey Logan, supervisor of the Kingston Ground Observer Post, for the top efficiency attained by the post and pointed out that he was aware of the problems she faced, particularly the matter of obtaining sufficient volunteer personnel to man the station.

Maj. H. Edgar Timmerman of West Shokan presented a vivid description of a test which he saw in which the dropping of an atomic bomb on the Bronx was simulated. He said the paper "solution" was elaborate, each copy weighing seven pounds, and that the problems were tremendous. He said there was a control center in each borough and that in the simulated test the Manhattan center took over when the Bronx center was knocked out.

Says Equipment Effective

Timmerman said 75 pieces of fire equipment laid a "curtain of water" around the stricken area, that an air of seriousness prevailed with "no joking or fooling around." Auxiliary police arrived from Staten Island, Long Island, Westchester, etc., to assist at the scene. A man was rescued from the fourth story of a building in a litter. Forty smoke pots were employed to lay a pall of smoke over the area and bulldozers pushed through debris to rescue persons trapped under fallen timbers and walls. He said the scene was so realistic that "thieving children," planted there, of course, as part of the operation, were apprehended, and the Salvation Army doled out coffee and doughnuts. He said that representatives of city utilities were present to shut off gas, handle electrical problems, etc.,

Allied Soldiers Hit Back at Red Push On West Outpost

Communists Use Smoke to Obscure Moves —B29s Hammer at Supplies

Seoul, Feb. 20 (AP)—Outnumbered allied soldiers, fighting in the haze of Communist smoke shells, beat off two Red attacks on a western front outpost in a bitter, bloody clash early today.

The Reds attacked behind a curtain of more than 1,000 rounds of punishing mortar and artillery fire. Some were smoke shells that hampered allied observation and cast a thick haze over the area for hours.

In the relentless allied air war U. S. B-29 Superforts roared to within five miles of Manchuria in the early morning hours and dumped 110 tons of bombs on a Red communications and supply center.

Allied fighter-bombers roared out a few hours later and bombed Red rail lines and supply centers throughout North Korea. U. S. Sabre jets, screening the aerial blows, damaged two Communist MIGs, the air force said.

Scouted by Planes

The Superfort target area had been scouted by reconnaissance planes, whose pilots reported heavy vehicular activity.

The air force said the 140-acre depot, 20 miles southeast of Sinuiju, contained 350 buildings, a headquarters area, fuel storage tanks, supply dumps and warehouses.

Crewmen reported smoke and flame shot 2,000 feet into the air after a tremendous explosion, indicating a fuel tank had been hit. one pilot counted more than 40 fires.

The Reds hurled anti-aircraft fire and night fighter attacks at the raiding Superforts. The air force did not say if either side suffered damage or loss.

The U. S. Eighth Army today confirmed that warplanes "presumed to be" allied killed three U. S. soldiers and wounded five Feb. 2 in a mistaken bombing behind the U.N. lines in western Korea. The bombed unit was a battalion headquarters of the U. S. Seventh Division.

Allied artillery caught 100 Chinese in the open southwest of Kumsong, on the central front, this afternoon. Observers reported 30 killed.

Chinese Are Spotted

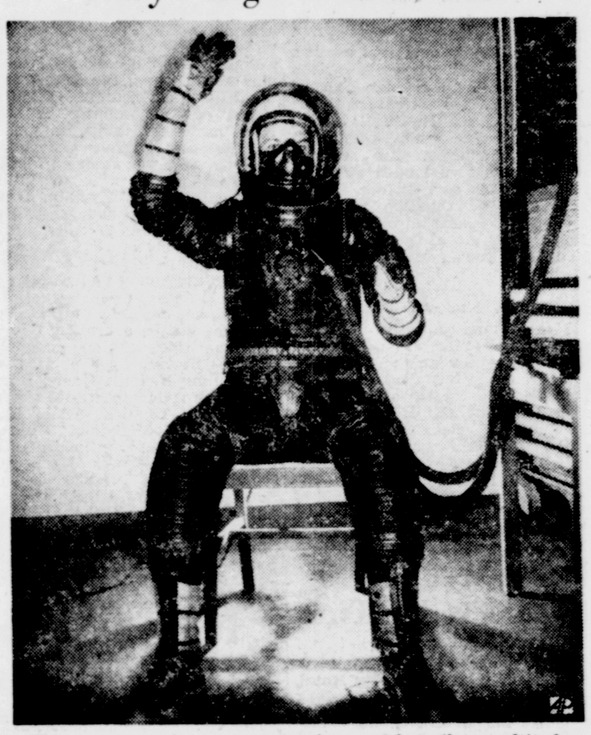
Low-flying single-engine observation planes had spotted the Chinese.

Allied troops beat back the first Red attack on the western front in a bitter 80-minute fight. Three hours later, more than 100 Chinese Reds struck again from the south, north and west. UN troops fought them off in a battle that raged for an hour and a half.

The Communist smoke screen prevented a count of Red casualties, but allied officers said the intensity of the fights indicated "considerably enemy killed and wounded."

Marine Corsairs destroyed 30 supply shelters in a low-level bombing attack northeast of Kaesong on the Western front while Fifth Air Force fighter-bombers blasted rails and highways in a strike northwest of Kaesong.

Navy's High Altitude Suit



This pressure suit can protect a jet or rocket pilot at altitudes up to 100,000 feet—nearly 19 miles—in case he is forced to bail out in thin atmosphere bordering on outer space. It was developed for the U. S. Navy by B. F. Goodrich Company in Akron, Ohio. As shown, hose lines are connected for pressure measurements. The flexible suit carries its own supply of oxygen and air under pressure, and inflates automatically.

Canada Cuts Income Tax, Budget Balance Cited

Counts on Billion Gain in Economy; Slash Made in Many Assessments

Ottawa, Feb. 20 (AP)—The government, counting on a billion dollar bulge in its booming economy this year, has ordered at 11 per cent cut in personal income taxes.

Finance Minister Douglas Abbott, in placing the budget before Parliament last night, said Canada could afford to slash 243 million dollars in taxes, spend more, and still balance the budget. He estimated the value of all goods and services produced by Canadians will increase to a record 24 billion dollars this coming year, up one billion dollars over the past year. Canada's mining, forestry and manufacturing industries are booming.

The opposition Progressive Conservatives assailed the budget as an election year bid to return the Liberal government of Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent to power. Most politicians expect an election this year, Oct. 5 being the date most frequently mentioned.

Taxes Are Slashed

The budget slashed corporation taxes, eased cigarette taxes by four cents a pack and cut out nuisance taxes on checks and an unpopular $2.50 license fees on radio's, besides providing a 11 per cent cut in personal income levies beginning July 1.

Fay Regards Things As About Normal

Says Capital Is Reacting to Seasonal Trend, All Are Bragging

By ELTON C. FAY
(AP Military Affairs Reporter)

Washington, Feb. 20 (AP)—This is the season when the picture turns grim and things are in a hell of a fix.

It is the time when each of the armed forces tells how good it is.

And it is, perchance, the time of budget-making. It happens every year, in peace and war, in every administration.

Some years there are mysterious rumors of foreign submarines cruising off American shores. Other years there are vapor trails from high-flying, unseen, unknown aircraft above the northern defense perimeter. And some years people just sit down and add up all the military and diplomatic perplexities and intelligence estimates and come up with a broad and brooding black picture.

Happened Only Yesterday

Only yesterday a group of congressional leaders emerged from a White House session with military, intelligence and National Security Council officials—speaking cryptically but apprehensively of the briefing they had. It was nothing

Bridges Has Views HST Made Error

Truman Gave Wrong Figure, Senator Feels —Expects Review of Program

Washington, Feb. 20 (AP)—Sen. Taft (R.-Ohio) said today the Eisenhower administration has been saddled with a "terrific burden" of proposed long-range military spending in its efforts to balance the budget.

But he and Sen. Millikin of Colorado, chairman of the conference of all Republican senators, predicted that spending will be cut and an increase avoided in the 275 billion dollar legal debt limit.

"I'm sure he will not lift the debt limit," Millikin told interviewers. "If we went on the Truman budget we would have to increase it, but we're not going on the Truman budget."

Taft, GOP Senate leader, said the public ought to know "just what a terrific burden was left to us by the Truman administration" with its spending plans—as represented not only in the $78,600,000,000 budget former President Truman sent to Congress for the year beginning July 1, but in five-year planning for military outlays.

Bridges Gives Opinion

Supplementing this, Chairman Bridges (R.-N.H.) of the Senate Appropriations Committee said there is a possibility that former President Truman under-estimated spending for the next year by 2½ billion dollars. That would put the prospective deficit, by Truman's figures, at over 12 billions.

The New Hampshire senator said he understands the military services plan to spend—out of money already voted them by Congress—2½ billions more than Truman estimated.

Taft said Budget Director Joseph M. Dodge, at a White House briefing for congressional leaders yesterday, had outlined the long-range military spending plans of the Truman regime and estimated that if they were followed the national debt would rise to 300 billions in 1958.

Would Require Boost

That would require an increase in the present 275 billion dollar debt limit, a move the Eisenhower administration is determined to avoid.

Under the Truman plans, Taft said, military spending would not reach its peak until next year and would then taper off with a budget balanced at 63 billion dollars in 1953.

The Ohio senator already has said he expects the new Republican administration to review the entire military program, indicating that he hopes some concrete recommendations for savings can be made by May 1.

Dodge has called for reports from department heads by March 4 on spending cuts they can recommend in their fields. However, he is understood to have been met in some instances with requests from military officials for more money, not less.

To Work on Supplement

Bridges' committee plans to go to work Monday on a supplemental appropriations bill, the first money measure this session.

The House passed it yesterday after cutting sharply the $2,313,719,590 asked by Truman, who sent up the requests before he left the White House. The House sliced the bill to $925,172,920. Most of the reduction came through elimination of $1,200,000,000 asked to pay a military pay raise voted last year by Congress. The House told the Pentagon to find the money out of funds already on hand. Many Democrats contended this was only a bookkeeping affair rather than a real saving.

The House put back in the bill 20½ million dollars for federal grants to school districts hit hard by defense projects. The vote: 197-18.

Truman had asked 24 millions for this but the House Appropriations Committee cut out all of it in sending the bill to the floor.

NATO Council Will Provide 224 Millions for Ridgway Use

Paris, Feb. 20 (AP)—The NATO Council in a surprise move has promised Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway 224 million dollars more for 1953 European military construction—money it denied him last December. Now the council has to figure out which country will pay how much.

Allocation of the additional 224 million — matching the same amount approved at the council meeting last December—was announced last night by Lord Ismay, British secretary general of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The new allotment gave Ridgway, NATO's supreme commander, a bonus. In December he said 428 million dollars was the minimum needed for 1953 construction of air bases, jet fuel pipelines, communications and headquarters installations in western Europe. The council then allocated only 224 millions.

Ismay said the council had not solved the important problem of how to split the new allocation among the NATO members. "We are trying to avoid the sordid business of bargaining around the table," he added.

The December economy move drew sharp criticism from Ridgway, who called it a lack of imaginative planning. He said a slackening of the NATO defense effort could not be excused.

Military planners felt that projects should be pushed during good construction weather this spring and summer. Commenting last night on the increase, a spokesman at Ridgway's headquarters said: "Too bad it's come two months too late."

The spokesman, who asked that his name not be used, said "pressure must have been heavy" for the bigger allocation because the military authorities had not expected it to be announced before the scheduled April 23 meeting of Atlantic Pact foreign ministers.

With sums previously authorized, 562 million dollars has now been set aside for the 1953 NATO building program.

Probers to Check on Police in New York About Civil Rights Procedure; Have Leads

Washington, Feb. 20 (AP)—Congressional probers moved into New York city today to find out if police there had a holiday from normal procedures of federal civil rights investigations.

Robert A. Collier, chief counsel of a House judiciary subcommittee, said he has appointments with Mayor Vincent Impellitteri and Police Commissioner George P. Monaghan.

Collier said his staff will follow up leads developed in testimony yesterday when two New York Democrats, Reps. Powell and Dollinger, demanded that Monaghan be "fired immediately." They said Monaghan was bringing "disgrace" to New York city.

Collier said information turned up within the next few days will be used in determining what witnesses will be called later.

"What we want to find out," said Collier, "is whether there has been any deviation in the normal process of federal investigation of violations of civil rights laws in New York city."

The committee took a look yesterday at two communications found in Justice Department files. These led to charges that New York city's top police officials made a deal with Justice officials to block the FBI from checking up on civil rights cases. The idea, as outlined, was to maintain smooth operations between the federal and local agencies.

Monaghan has denied the FBI ever agreed to ignore charges of police brutality. The FBI declined comment.

Powell contended that James M. McInerney, who was then assistant attorney general in charge of the Criminal Division, made the arrangement last July with Monaghan and two of his top aides, Chief Inspector Conrad H. Rothengast and First Deputy Police Commissioner Frank Fristensky, Jr.

The agreement was "abrogated," Powell told the committee, when James P. McGranery discovered it four days before he stepped down as attorney general. McGranery was succeeded by Herbert Brownell, Jr. with the inauguration of President Eisenhower's administration Jan. 20.

Rep. Javits (R-NY) also criticized the New York Police Department for what he called disregard of the civil rights of minority groups in the metropolis.

The development, he said, "is corruption beyond corruption."

Six New York city policemen were called before a Federal Grand Jury today to testify in an investigation of alleged police brutality last August against a Negro in a police station.

In New York yesterday, delegates of 30 Negro and white civic organizations demanded the dismissal of any officials responsible for any police-FBI deal on Civil Rights cases.

Gave $9 Million in Loans

DuMond was elected at the third annual stockholders meeting of the Federal Land Bank of Springfield, Mass., held February 17 and 18, attended by more than 150 officers from the 54 associations in the northeast, who own all the stock in the bank which furnished $9 million for farm mortgage loans in 1952, and has a $10 million goal this year.

Considered for Mayor's Job

New York, Feb. 20 (AP)—The New York Times told today of a report that Rep. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., was being considered as a candidate for mayor of New York. A Washington dispatch to The Times said national political interest was attracted yesterday to a report in well-informed quarters that Roosevelt was under consideration by "independent" party and labor leaders as a coalition Democratic-Liberal nominee. "I am not a candidate for the nomination," Roosevelt said, "and would not lift a finger to obtain the nomination. And I certainly hope that the trolley doesn't stop on this block."

The condition of County Judge John M. Cashin was reported as much improved at the Benedictine Hospital where he is under treatment for an attack of flu.

Drink Up, Order Of Two Robbers

New York, Feb. 20 (AP) — Two masked men stalked into a Bronx bakery early today, held up two bakers, and scooped up more than $1,200. Then they added an original touch.

Producing a full fifth of whiskey, they forced one of the bakers, Joseph Arpaia, 40, to take two swallows. Next they forced Harry Heller, 52, to drain the bottle without stopping. Heller is a teetotaler.

Locking Heller in a washroom, they forced Arpaia to drive them several blocks in his car. As they left the car they tossed him a roll of pennies.

Heller was treated at Fordham Hospital for nausea, an inflamed throat and hysteria. Arpaia was treated for hysteria only.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Feb. 20 (AP)—For the third straight session the stock market advanced today, and the railroads were out in front of the rise.

Gains in the rails ran to a point or better while in the remainder of the list the advance seldom got that high.

Pan American World Airways was quite active in blocks as large as 7,000 shares with the bulk of the trading unchanged at 10⅞ or slightly higher. Other air lines were quiet.

Steels and motors, which joined with rails yesterday in an early advance, were unchanged to higher today with trading quiet.

Advancing were New York Central, Southern Pacific, Canadian Pacific, Texas Co., United Air Lines, American Telephone, Johns-Manville, Kennecott Copper, American Cyanamid, Bethlehem Steel, General Motors, Goodyear, Boeing, and Texas Gulf Producing.

New Haven Railroad was off around a point after having made substantial gains earlier in the week. The reaction came after directors declared a dividend of $5 on the 5 per cent convertible preferred, cutting back the arrears to $8 a share.

About the Folks

Mrs. Everett Gilbert of 102 Second avenue has returned home following an operation performed at Benedictine Hospital.

Fay Regards Things

new, they said—the picture has been grim for a long time.

The congressional leaders then went to the capitol where Congress is going to work on the budget.

Across the Potomac at the Pentagon the armed forces seemed to hear unusually loud alarms from around the world. But maybe that is just because they are used to the grimness of the times.

Each Could Do Better

Individually, the three services wanted folks to know how each of them was ready to fight any kind of war in any place. There was the impression each could do it as well or a little better than either of the other two services.

In fairness, perhaps they recalled the economy drive of a few years ago, under Louis A. Johnson's defense secretaryship. Most people in the Pentagon believe that campagin was partially responsible for the state of U. S. unreadiness when the Korean war broke out.

And perhaps each service wanted to guard against too-deep cuts in its budget this year. At any rate—the navy announced it had developed a fully pressurized suit which would allow "navy pilots" (the press release didn't say why other pilots couldn't wear it too) to "travel in safety in the extreme upper atmosphere—or even in outer space."

Air Force Interested, Annoyed

The account had wide reader interest among those anticipating the advent of space travel and warfare. It also had the rapt and slightly annoyed interest of the air force.

The air force, with practically no urging, was ready to produce a press release it issued last Oct. 4, saying it then had a new type pressure suit "enabling pilots to survive in the near vacuum of the upper atmosphere." In that release, the author waited until he got down eight paragraphs to say the suit "resembles to some extent the popular conception of a space suit." But the author of yesterday's navy release hit, right at the beginning, the idea it was a suit good "even in outer space." The air force had learned a lesson in the art of publicity.

Army Boasts of Missiles

The army, perhaps not wanting to be overlooked when ideas about rocket-age arsenals were being circulated, came up with a summary of its program in the guided missile field. Through several hundred words the army went in for some re-presentation of technical facts about rocket shooting, captioned the release with the declaration that "army's new guided missiles now roll off assembly lines." But it didn't say what the missiles are or how many have rolled off. With the background presented, the army got to the point, announcing:

"The army now has weapons that aim themselves after the trigger is pulled—and it is almost impossible for them to miss a target...fantastic though it may seem, one of the army's surface-to-air missiles—The Nike—carries a guidance system designed to outmaneuver and hit enemy aircraft."

The enemy plane, said the army, may "dive, climb, bank, side-slip or turn tail—but the army's new weapons still will knock them out of the skies."

The army's account came out late in the day. Presumably there wasn't time left for the navy or air force to get out reports on their fantastic robot weapons.

Approval Forecast

quired of all automobile drivers."

"If you agree with me, I hope you will make your voices heard," Dewey urged. He spoke at a dinner honoring Mrs. Charles W. Weis, Jr., Republican national committeewoman, who is retiring as vice chairman of the Monroe County Republican Committee.

Unexpected support came from John L. Train, Utica Mutual president, who last night endorsed the proposal for compulsory coverage. He said he opposed, however, a second administration measure that would force insurance companies to set up an "assigned case" plan to pay claims against uninsured, out-of-state, hit-run or stolen car drivers.

Train also said he opposed creation of an unsatisfied judgment fund, suggested as an alternative.

Utica Mutual is the largest casualty firm having home offices in the state.

Among Many Bills

The fiscal study measure was among the deluge of bills submitted Tuesday before the introduction deadline. Senate clerks got to it yesterday.

The commission would have authority to study all aspects of the state's fiscal affairs.

Dewey's budget message urged the study because, the governor said, "it may be that the federal government will want to relinquish some of its present tax resources in favor of the state, so that the states will become less dependent on federal aid."

If that should happen, Dewey said, "the Empire State should make sure its fiscal house is in order and that it will be able to participate as a full partner in any possible changes in federal-state fiscal relations."

The proposed commission would comprise two senators, two assemblymen, and seven members appointed by the governor.

Members would serve without pay but would be reimbursed for expenses.

Priest Is Excommunicated

Boston, Feb. 20 (AP)—The Rev. Leonard J. Feeney, the priest who insisted non-Catholics cannot attain salvation, has been excommunicated by the Roman Catholic Church. The order was issued by the Sacred Congregation of the Holy Office in Rome and made public last night in the Pilot, official publication of the Boston archdiocese. But the 55-year-old priest refused to acknowledge the dictum, declaring, "I am not excommunicated. I am once more excommunicated through channels of the Boston newspapers." He did not elaborate.

The meeting was addressed by Herschel D. Newsom, master of the National Grange and J. K. Stern, president of the American Institute of Cooperation, who spoke on "Directors' Responsibility in Farm Cooperatives."

Considered for Mayor's Job

New York, Feb. 20 (AP)—The New York Times told today of a report that Rep. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., was being considered as a candidate for mayor of New York. A Washington dispatch to The Times said national political interest was attracted yesterday to a report in well-informed quarters that Roosevelt was under consideration by "independent" party and labor leaders as a coalition Democratic-Liberal nominee. "I am not a candidate for the nomination," Roosevelt said, "and would not lift a finger to obtain the nomination. And I certainly hope that the trolley doesn't stop on this block."

Drink Up, Order Of Two Robbers

New York, Feb. 20 (AP) — Two masked men stalked into a Bronx bakery early today, held up two bakers, and scooped up more than $1,200. Then they added an original touch.

Producing a full fifth of whiskey, they forced one of the bakers, Joseph Arpaia, 40, to take two swallows. Next they forced Harry Heller, 52, to drain the bottle without stopping. Heller is a teetotaler.

Locking Heller in a washroom, they forced Arpaia to drive them several blocks in his car. As they left the car they tossed him a roll of pennies.

Heller was treated at Fordham Hospital for nausea, an inflamed throat and hysteria. Arpaia was treated for hysteria only.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Feb. 20 (AP)—For the third straight session the stock market advanced today, and the railroads were out in front of the rise.

Gains in the rails ran to a point or better while in the remainder of the list the advance seldom got that high.

Pan American World Airways was quite active in blocks as large as 7,000 shares with the bulk of the trading unchanged at 10⅞ or slightly higher. Other air lines were quiet.

Steels and motors, which joined with rails yesterday in an early advance, were unchanged to higher today with trading quiet.

Advancing were New York Central, Southern Pacific, Canadian Pacific, Texas Co., United Air Lines, American Telephone, Johns-Manville, Kennecott Copper, American Cyanamid, Bethlehem Steel, General Motors, Goodyear, Boeing, and Texas Gulf Producing.

New Haven Railroad was off around a point after having made substantial gains earlier in the week. The reaction came after directors declared a dividend of $5 on the 5 per cent convertible preferred, cutting back the arrears to $8 a share.

About the Folks

Mrs. Everett Gilbert of 102 Second avenue has returned home following an operation performed at Benedictine Hospital.

Fay Regards Things

new, they said—the picture has been grim for a long time.

The congressional leaders then went to the capitol where Congress is going to work on the budget.

Across the Potomac at the Pentagon the armed forces seemed to hear unusually loud alarms from around the world. But maybe that is just because they are used to the grimness of the times.

Each Could Do Better

Individually, the three services wanted folks to know how each of them was ready to fight any kind of war in any place. There was the impression each could do it as well or a little better than either of the other two services.

In fairness, perhaps they recalled the economy drive of a few years ago, under Louis A. Johnson's defense secretaryship. Most people in the Pentagon believe that campagin was partially responsible for the state of U. S. unreadiness when the Korean war broke out.

And perhaps each service wanted to guard against too-deep cuts in its budget this year. At any rate—the navy announced it had developed a fully pressurized suit which would allow "navy pilots" (the press release didn't say why other pilots couldn't wear it too) to "travel in safety in the extreme upper atmosphere—or even in outer space."

Air Force Interested, Annoyed

The account had wide reader interest among those anticipating the advent of space travel and warfare. It also had the rapt and slightly annoyed interest of the air force.

The air force, with practically no urging, was ready to produce a press release it issued last Oct. 4, saying it then had a new type pressure suit "enabling pilots to survive in the near vacuum of the upper atmosphere." In that release, the author waited until he got down eight paragraphs to say the suit "resembles to some extent the popular conception of a space suit." But the author of yesterday's navy release hit, right at the beginning, the idea it was a suit good "even in outer space." The air force had learned a lesson in the art of publicity.

Army Boasts of Missiles

The army, perhaps not wanting to be overlooked when ideas about rocket-age arsenals were being circulated, came up with a summary of its program in the guided missile field. Through several hundred words the army went in for some re-presentation of technical facts about rocket shooting, captioned the release with the declaration that "army's new guided missiles now roll off assembly lines." But it didn't say what the missiles are or how many have rolled off. With the background presented, the army got to the point, announcing:

"The army now has weapons that aim themselves after the trigger is pulled—and it is almost impossible for them to miss a target...fantastic though it may seem, one of the army's surface-to-air missiles—The Nike—carries a guidance system designed to outmaneuver and hit enemy aircraft."

The enemy plane, said the army, may "dive, climb, bank, side-slip or turn tail—but the army's new weapons still will knock them out of the skies."

The army's account came out late in the day. Presumably there wasn't time left for the navy or air force to get out reports on their fantastic robot weapons.

Approval Forecast

quired of all automobile drivers."

"If you agree with me, I hope you will make your voices heard," Dewey urged. He spoke at a dinner honoring Mrs. Charles W. Weis, Jr., Republican national committeewoman, who is retiring as vice chairman of the Monroe County Republican Committee.

Unexpected support came from John L. Train, Utica Mutual president, who last night endorsed the proposal for compulsory coverage. He said he opposed, however, a second administration measure that would force insurance companies to set up an "assigned case" plan to pay claims against uninsured, out-of-state, hit-run or stolen car drivers.

Train also said he opposed creation of an unsatisfied judgment fund, suggested as an alternative.

Utica Mutual is the largest casualty firm having home offices in the state.

Among Many Bills

The fiscal study measure was among the deluge of bills submitted Tuesday before the introduction deadline. Senate clerks got to it yesterday.

The commission would have authority to study all aspects of the state's fiscal affairs.

Dewey's budget message urged the study because, the governor said, "it may be that the federal government will want to relinquish some of its present tax resources in favor of the state, so that the states will become less dependent on federal aid."

If that should happen, Dewey said, "the Empire State should make sure its fiscal house is in order and that it will be able to participate as a full partner in any possible changes in federal-state fiscal relations."

The proposed commission would comprise two senators, two assemblymen, and seven members appointed by the governor.

Members would serve without pay but would be reimbursed for expenses.

Payments to Vets Are Tax Free, Is Advice Given by VA

Payments to veterans for benefits administered by the Veterans Administration are tax-free and need not be reported in computing income tax according to F. William Sheehan, officer in charge, Veterans Administration contact office, 286 Fair street.

Sheehan said that dividends which veterans have received on their GI insurance policies are exempt from taxation and need not be reported.

Among the tax-exempt VA payments are the following:

Subsistence allowances for World War 2 veterans training in schools, on farms and on the job under the GI Bill.

Subsistence payments made to disabled World War 2 and Korean veterans in training under Public Law 16, The Vocational Rehabilitation Act.

Education and training allowances for post-Korean veterans enrolled in schools and training establishments under the Korean GI Bill.

Payments by VA to be applied to veterans' GI loans. Under the GI Bill, VA pays the lender an amount equivalent to four per cent of the guaranteed portion of the loan up to a maximum of $160 which is credited to the veteran's account.

Disability compensation and pensions paid to veterans for both service-connected and nonservice connected disabilities.

Grants for seriously disabled veterans for homes designed for wheelchair living.

Final Sweep Is To Be Made by U.S. In Buffalo Area

Buffalo, Feb. 20—An air force plane was scheduled to make one last sweep over a vast western New York area today before the air force temporarily drops the search for four missing Niagara University students.

Maj. Theodore J. Gourley, commanding officer of the 46th Rescue Squadron at Westover air force base, Mass., said an amphibious-type plane would cover an 800 square mile area before returning home.

But he emphasized that the air force would take up the search again in the event of a good lead. The students have been missing since last Friday when their rented plane failed to return from a flight to Olean.

Are Not Quitting

"This doesn't mean we're quitting," Maj. Gourley said.

"We've got para-rescue teams and survival experts ready to drop at a moment's notice. The search will never be officially closed until we find something."

The Civil Air Patrol ended its concentrated search activities, but volunteer flyers were ready to take to the air whenever the weather is right, said Lt. Col. Theodore M. Wright, commanding officer of the CAP unit at Buffalo.

Meanwhile, state police and volunteers were expected to resume the hunt over rugged, wilderness terrain in western New York.

The missing students had taken off for Olean to drop leaflets over St. Bonaventure University's campus in advance of a basketball game between the Bonnies and Niagara.

The pilot was James G. Sweeney, 19, of Elmhurst, Queens, a freshman.

First patent was issued by the United States Patent Office on July 31, 1790.

DREARY AFTERMATH—Looking as if a battle had been fought there, the streets of Poortvliet, Holland, are littered with debris, left by ebbed floodwaters. As the flood retreated, the country was again stricken, this time by gale-driven snow, sleet and rain.

'Day of Prayer— Whatever Faith'

By SOPHIE SCHMIDTKONZ

There is nothing nicer, worthier, true
Than doing the things God wants us to
Throughout the Bible, from beginning to end
God speaks to us as on our way we wend.

God's holy days, whatever Faith
We should regard with thankful grace
In prayer, repentance, resolutions true
To try and live in love and truth.

So, Protestant, Catholic or Jew
It isn't a question of "Who is Who"
As long as we believe in God
The knot of Faith, is Heaven's door knob.

The day will come, when all will be
One heart, one soul, in God's eternity.

Sophie Schmidtkonz is the daughter of the late Rev. A. Schmidtkonz of Kingston, N. Y.

New Booklet Out On Heart Disease Afflicting Children

"We can do more today to help or heal children with heart disease than was though possible two dozen years ago, and studies now under way hold even more hope for the future."

This opening statement in a new booklet, Heart Disease in Children, published today by the American Heart Association and its affiliates, offers a heartening note for parents, teachers, and all others concerned with the problems of child health and child care.

The booklet is intended to give an up-to-date summary of the information now available on the prevention and treatment or rheumatic fever, the treatment of rheumatic heart disease, and the correction of congential heart defects. About one in every hundred children of school age has one of these ailments.

Shows Key to Prevention

The booklet points out, "the key to prevention of rheumatic fever, the greatest cause of heart disease in children, lies in the fact that most attacks of rheumatic fever are preceded, two or three weeks before the rheumatic infection, by a hemolytic streptococcal infection—sore throat, scarlet fever, infection of the middle ear, for example...A short-term, intensive course of treatment with penicillin begun at the first sign of a streptococcal infection, helps prevent the initial attack of rheumatic fever."

Noting that the renewed danger to the heart in rheumatic fever comes from each repeated attack, the booklet adds, "There is no way now of estimating how many children are saved from rheumatic heart disease through the use of the sulfonamides or penicillin to prevent recurrences of rheumatic fever attacks." Rheumatic heart disease—a legacy of rheumatic fever—is fairly common today because recurrences of rheumatic fever are so frequent. But now that we know how to protect patients from repeat attacks of rheumatic fever, we can look forward to a decline in the number of cases of rheumatic heart disease.

Reduces Hazards

Increased health programs in the rheumatic fever field are also credited with reducing the hazards of the disease. "As a result of rheumatic fever programs, improved health services, and educational programs among parents, school people, social workers, and nurses, more children are brought to physicians in the early stage of the infection when it is most important that they be kept in bed under medical supervision," the booklet states.

Regarding the present trends in research, Heart Disease in Children states, "Scientists are working to track down the cause or causes of rheumatic fever. An intensive search is being made for drugs that will cure rheumatic fever and thus reduce the possibility of heart damage; studies are under way to develop a simple and specific diagnostic test for rheumatic fever. And while research is in progress, heart associations, medical societies, health departments, and medical schools through symposiums, institutes, demonstrations, and scientific publications are keeping abreast of new developments in the control and treatment of rheumatic fever and heart disease."

Explains Study

Although no miracle drugs have yet been found to cure rheumatic fever, the booklet tells of a three-nation cooperative study, begun in 1951, on the comparative effects of ACTH, cortisone and salicylates (aspirin) that is now under way to test these drugs in the treatment of rheumatic fever. The study is being conducted jointly by the Council on Rheumatic Fever and Congenital Heart Disease of the American Heart Association, and the British Medical Research Council. Surgical techniques for correcting or relieving heart damage resulting from rheumatic fever can be used only in a limited number of cases, it is indicated.

In addition, the question of whether or not every child with a congenital heart condition—a defect present at birth—can be cured by one of the new surgical procedures, is discussed in the new booklet. "Heart Disease in Children" makes clear there has been a definite advance in solving the problems of a major cause of illness in both children and adults.

"Heart Disease in Children" is obtainable from the Ulster County Heart Committee, 74 John street.

Proposals Due In Grave Walkout

New York, Feb. 20 (AP)—A fact-finding committee's proposals for ending the strike of grave diggers and other employes at 10 Metropolitan area cemeteries will be placed before a union membership meeting tomorrow night.

A 24-hour postponement of action on the proposals was announced last night by John Harold, attorney for Local 365 of the AFL Cemetery Workers Union.

Asked if union negotiators would recommend acceptance of the formula, Harold declined comment.

A union membership meeting in Brrooklyn had been announced for tonight by the State Mediation Board office.

The 1,500 members of Local 365 will decide whether some 200 grave diggers and other workers will accept the $3.25 weekly wage rise and other contract improvements recommended.

The struck cemeteries have accepted the formula of the fact finding committee, George Goodstein, attorney for one group of the cemeteries, said.

He said that not only the 10 struck cemeteries have accepted the fact finders' terms but that several non-struck cemeteries, which have been in negotiation with the union, also have accepted. These include the Lutheran Cemetery in Middle Village, Queens, he said.

Payments to Vets Are Tax Free, Is AdviceGiven by VA

Payments to veterans for benefits administered by the Veterans Administration are tax-free and need not be reported in computing income tax according to F. William Sheehan, officer in charge, Veterans Administration contact office, 286 Fair street.

Sheehan said that dividends which veterans have received on their GI insurance policies are exempt from taxation and need not be reported.

Among the tax-exempt VA payments are the following:

Subsistence allowances for World War 2 veterans training in schools, on farms and on the job under the GI Bill.

Subsistence payments made to disabled World War 2 and Korean veterans in training under Public Law 16, The Vocational Rehabilitation Act.

Education and training allowances for post-Korean veterans enrolled in schools and training establishments under the Korean GI Bill.

Payments by VA to be applied to veterans' GI loans. Under the GI Bill, VA pays the lender an amount equivalent to four per cent of the guaranteed portion of the loan up to a maximum of $160 which is credited to the veteran's account.

Disability compensation and pensions paid to veterans for both service-connected and nonservice connected disabilities.

Grants for seriously disabled veterans for homes designed for wheelchair living.

World War 1 emergency officers' retirement pay.

Death benefits to families of deceased veterans are also exempt from taxation, it was pointed out. These include compensation, pension and all GI insurance payments.

Further information may be obtained by contacting the Veterans Administration office at 286 Fair street, or by calling Kingston 5180.

Final Sweep Is To Be Made by U.S. In Buffalo Area

Buffalo, Feb. 20—An air force plane was scheduled to make one last sweep over a vast western New York area today before the air force temporarily drops the search for four missing Niagara University students.

Maj. Theodore J. Gourley, commanding officer of the 46th Rescue Squadron at Westover air force base, Mass., said an amphibious-type plane would cover an 800 square mile area before returning home.

But he emphasized that the air force would take up the search again in the event of a good lead. The students have been missing since last Friday when their rented plane failed to return from a flight to Olean.

Are Not Quitting

"This doesn't mean we're quitting," Maj. Gourley said.

"We've got para-rescue teams and survival experts ready to drop at a moment's notice. The search will never be officially closed until we find something."

The Civil Air Patrol ended its concentrated search activities, but volunteer flyers were ready to take to the air whenever the weather is right, said Lt. Col. Theodore M. Wright, commanding officer of the CAP unit at Buffalo.

Meanwhile, state police and volunteers were expected to resume the hunt over rugged, wilderness terrain in western New York.

The missing students had taken off for Olean to drop leaflets over St. Bonaventure University's campus in advance of a basketball game between the Bonnies and Niagara.

The pilot was James G. Sweeney, 19, of Elmhurst, Queens, a freshman.

First patent was issued by the United States Patent Office on July 31, 1790.

'Day of Prayer— Whatever Faith'

By SOPHIE SCHMIDTKONZ

There is nothing nicer, worthier, true
Than doing the things God wants us to
Throughout the Bible, from beginning to end
God speaks to us as on our way we wend.

God's holy days, whatever Faith
We should regard with thankful grace
In prayer, repentance, resolutions true
To try and live in love and truth.

So, Protestant, Catholic or Jew
It isn't a question of "Who is Who"
As long as we believe in God
The knot of Faith, is Heaven's door knob.

The day will come, when all will be
One heart, one soul, in God's eternity.

New Booklet Out On Heart Disease Afflicting Children

"We can do more today to help or heal children with heart disease than was though possible two dozen years ago, and studies now under way hold even more hope for the future."

This opening statement in a new booklet, Heart Disease in Children, published today by the American Heart Association and its affiliates, offers a heartening note for parents, teachers, and all others concerned with the problems of child health and child care.

The booklet is intended to give an up-to-date summary of the information now available on the prevention and treatment or rheumatic fever, the treatment of rheumatic heart disease, and the correction of congential heart defects. About one in every hundred children of school age has one of these ailments.

Shows Key to Prevention

The booklet points out, "the key to prevention of rheumatic fever, the greatest cause of heart disease in children, lies in the fact that most attacks of rheumatic fever are preceded two or three weeks before the rheumatic infection, by a hemolytic streptococcal infection—sore throat, scarlet fever, infection of the middle ear, for example...A short-term, intensive course of treatment with penicillin begun at the first sign of a streptococcal infection, helps prevent the initial attack of rheumatic fever."

Noting that the renewed danger to the heart in rheumatic fever comes from each repeated attack, the booklet adds, "There is no way now of estimating how many children are saved from rheumatic heart disease through the use of the sulfonamides or penicillin to prevent recurrences of rheumatic fever attacks." Rheumatic heart disease—a legacy of rheumatic fever—is fairly common today because recurrences of rheumatic fever are so frequent. But now that we know how to protect patients from repeat attacks of rheumatic fever, we can look forward to a decline in the number of cases of rheumatic heart disease.

Reduces Hazards

Increased health programs in the rheumatic fever field are also credited with reducing the hazards of the disease. "As a result of rheumatic fever programs, improved health services, and educational programs among parents, school people, social workers, and nurses, more children are brought to physicians in the early stage of the infection when it is most important that they be kept in bed under medical supervision," the booklet states.

Regarding the present trends in research, Heart Disease in Children states, "Scientists are working to track down the cause or causes of rheumatic fever. An intensive search is being made for drugs that will cure rheumatic fever and thus reduce the possibility of heart damage; studies are under way to develop a simple and specific diagnostic test for rheumatic fever. And while research is in progress, heart associations, medical societies, health departments, and medical schools through symposiums, institutes, demonstrations, and scientific publications are keeping abreast of new developments in the control and treatment of rheumatic fever and heart disease."

Explains Study

Although no miracle drugs have yet been found to cure rheumatic fever, the booklet tells of a three-nation cooperative study, begun in 1951, on the comparative effects of ACTH, cortisone and salicylates (aspirin) that is now under way to test these drugs in the treatment of rheumatic fever. The study is being conducted jointly by the Council on Rheumatic Fever and Congenital Heart Disease of the American Heart Association, and the British Medical Research Council. Surgical techniques for correcting or relieving heart damage resulting from rheumatic fever can be used only in a limited number of cases, it is indicated.

In addition, the question of whether or not every child with a congenital heart condition—a defect present at birth—can be cured by one of the new surgical procedures, is discussed in the new booklet. "Heart Disease in Children" makes clear there has been a definite advance in solving the problems of a major cause of illness in both children and adults.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, FEBRUARY 20, 1953

NEWBURGH FOR KINGSTON BRIDGE

A bill has been introduced in the Legislature calling for an $18,000,000 bridge across the Hudson River, linking Beacon and Newburgh. The bill stipulates, however, that the project may not be undertaken until after the Kingston-Rhinecliff span is completed.

The bill provides that the bridge would be paid for from tolls of all bridges under jurisdiction of the Bridge Authority.

It is stated that the proposed bill would increase the authorized indebtedness of the New York State Bridge Authority from $30,000,000 to $50,000,000.

Several years ago Governor Dewey signed into law a bill authorizing the Bridge Authority to issue bonds up to $30,000,000 for the construction of the Kingston-Rhinecliff Bridge.

It would seem from the stipulation—the Kingston-Rhinecliff span must be erected first—that Newburgh and Beacon for their own interests will seek immediate construction of the bridge here and the following editorial in the Newburgh News bears out this thought:

"It is seven years ago this time when legislation for Kingston-Rhinecliff Bridge was being considered in Albany. Initially, Newburgh and Beacon were inclined to oppose the project. It appeared that their efforts for a bridge might be handicapped because of restrictions on new bridges embodied in the Legislature. However, a statement by Senator Arthur H. Wicks of Kingston clarified the situation. He noted that the Kingston bridge bill could be changed when the Newburgh Bay structure was projected.

"Senator Wicks and Assemblyman Lee B. Mailler have since been working closely on bridge matters. Newburgh and Beacon have helped Kingston with its bridge, and Kingston will help our cities with their bridge. The three cities are alert to possible attempts by Poughkeepsie to secure an undue advantage for its bridge."

With this thought also in mind it might be a very good idea if a Newburgh resident was appointed to the Bridge Authority.

BLOCKADE THREAT

The Communists have told West Germany that signing the European defense treaty next month will mean a new blockade of Berlin. This must be distressing news to Berlin residents who remember the hardships imposed by the Russian blockade of 1948 which was lifted only when the Western air-lift made it ineffective.

The threat of blockade is a two-edged weapon in the hands of the Reds. Germans fear the suffering that will inevitably come if the city of Berlin is isolated. They also have an intense fear of anything which may bring on another war. A blockade would strain the tempers of both East and West and would increase the chances of an incident which would provoke World War III.

The Red threat appears to be a desperate effort on the part of the Communists to regain the initiative they have lost in the cold war. The withdrawal of the United States Seventh Fleet from the blockade of Formosa, the possibility of a blockade of China and the progress of European unity seem to have shaken the Reds.

The Western powers learned a great deal in the Berlin blockade of 1948. If Berlin should be isolated again that experience can be put to work in a hurry. Some observers see the Red announcement of the threatened blockade as a serious mistake. If the Russians are bluffing it is likely that the bluff will be called. If they are not bluffing their threat will serve as a warning to the East to be prepared.

U. S. TROOPS' HEROIC EFFORTS

A suggestion has been made that the heroic service rendered by the United States troops in their assignment to Holland during the disastrous floods be recognized by the City of Kingston.

In appreciation of the self-sacrificing endeavors of our soldiers while on rescue duty in Holland there should be sent a citation accompanied by a suitable gift. These men who risked their own safety to help a fellowman in distress renews our faith in mankind. We should not let these heroic efforts go unnoticed.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

THE ATTACK ON DULLES

New Deal members of Congress and New Deal columnists have selected the Secretary of State, John Foster Dulles, as the target of attack. They may be diverted temporarily into attacking the Secretary of Agriculture, Ezra Taft Benson, but Benson deals in tangibles and his program will stand or fall on statistics. Dulles, on the other hand, must concern himself with intangible factors and with other men's secrets, and therefore it is less difficult to distort his position.

The theory of this operation is that it would be bad policy to go after President Eisenhower so early in his career and while he enjoys great personal popularity. But valuable political time could be gained if members of his Cabinet were used as clay pigeons. Furthermore, under the two-party system, it is the function of the opposition to expose the party in power to the public view.

However, John Foster Dulles has achieved so much in almost no time that his opponents will find it difficult to make their criticism stick. Even Adlai Stevenson, who is a more objective and fair opponent than most, misread the situation in Europe due to a preconditioning of his thinking along Acheson lines. It is inevitable that he will correct his views after President Eisenhower places before him (as he will do before this is printed) the evidence that Dulles was forced to visit Europe even before he could organize his office, and speak as frankly as he did, because our position there was deteriorating to a point where a Russian diplomatic victory was in sight.

Partly this deterioration was due to our election system. Candidates were nominted in July; They were voted upon in November; the victor took office in January. For six long months, no American policy could be pursued with certainty; for six long months, the Kremlin was able to move swiftly and effectively in the direction of neutralism. In France and Germany, this campaign appeared in the sabotaging of the Lisbon Treaty, so that not a single country has yet ratified it. The degree of our aid to Europe depends upon the fulfillment of the Lisbon program setting up the measure of self-help by the Europeans.

Dulles employed open diplomacy, to which neither the American people nor the Europeans have been accustomed since 1938, when President Roosevelt interested himself actively in the developing European crisis. It takes some adjustment to switch from secret diplomacy, involving deceits, to open diplomacy, which takes the people into the confidence of their governments.

The principal attack is to be made on China Policy. The attack is to be made by Senators Humphrey and Mansfield, who are not Far Eastern experts.

It might be pointed out in this connection that after John Foster Dulles took office and while he was in Europe, an instruction was issued in the Voice of America, signed by W. Bradley Connors, citing Howard Fast, the Communist writer, as the type of controversial person who could be used propagandistically. Connors instructed that Fast's works might be given special credibility under certain circumstances. This is one of several evidences of the sabotage of the Eisenhower-Dulles policies by a State Department agency. This particular incident has already been investigated by Senator McCarthy's committee in executive session at which, it is understood, Fast took the usual plea under the Fifth Amendment.

The Far Eastern Policy of our country involves American lives, since we are actually at war with Soviet China in Korea and we have already suffered 130,000 casualties. It would do the United States no harm to have a full-dress debate on our policy, provided a full investigation is made of the errors since 1943 (Teheran).

For instance, a thorough study still needs to be made of General George Marshall's activities in relation to the truce between the Nationalists and the Communists in Manchuria, as a result of which the Communists were able to conquer China. Those truce talks were not unlike the ones that for 19 months have been taking place in Korea between the United States and the Communists.

Also, a full study ought to be made of aid to Nationalist China even when Chiang Kai-shek was our ally. The Chinese contend that they did not receive such aid as appears on our books. What happened to it?

THE SCHOOL LUNCH

Because business men often eat too much food at lunch and then feel heavy and listless for an hour or two afterwards, and because wives and mothers concentrate on the evening meal for their "big" meal of the day as the whole family are together for this evening meal, the noon lunch is often given little attention. That this is not fair to the growing child is the opinion of our children's specialists and our nutrition experts.

In Health, the magazine of the Health League of Canada, Margaret E. Smith, Ph.M., M.Sc., director of nutrition for the League, gives helpful advice to mothers:

"As much care and planning should go into the lunch children take to school as a mother puts into any meal she serves on the dining room table. Also, the lunch box must have eye appeal as well as food value."

I believe this "eye appeal" aspect of foods for all of us is often a neglected factor although fortunately our hospital dietitians keep this in mind as they prepare nourishing foods for their patients. It has been found that when food is attractive to the eye, to the sense of smell, and there is the remembrance of the flavor of the food on the tray, there is an actual outpouring of the digestive juices —in mouth, stomach and small intestine (saliva, gastric juice, pancreatic juice and bile)—before the food ever enters the mouth and this excess flow of these juices continues for forty-five minutes after food is eaten. This means, in the parlance of our track athletes, that when the food is attractive to eye, nose and memory, digestion gets a flying start and is ready to digest the food before it reaches stomach and intestines.

Miss Smith further states that the noonday lunch should provide one-third of the whole day's requirements of the energy-producing, body-building foods as this means proteins, minerals and vitamins for growth and repair of body tissues; and carbohydrates (starches) and fats to yield energy for work or play. The suggestions based on Canada's Food Rules are:

Include about 8 ounces (one glass) of pasteurized milk (white), varying this occasionally with buttermilk or pure food juices.

Use whole grain bread for sandwiches and see that the fillings provide proteins — meat, fish, cheese, eggs, or cottage cheese.

Put in at least one fresh vegetable—raw carrot-strips, celery, a whole tomato or a little salad—cabbage, parsley, green peppers, or cooked green beans.

Dessert—fresh fruits.

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington (NEA)—A five-man team of U. S. businessmen, headed by Harry A. Bullis of General Mills, has just left Washington for a month's new look at what gives on Formosa. Others on the team are Raymond T. Moyer of Ford Foundation; N. F. Alman, a former lawyer in Shanghai; Maj.-Gen. William A. Wharton, USMC, and Clinton Morrison, Minneapolis investment banker.

Ray Moyer is the father of JCRR—the Joint Chinese Relief and Reconstruction program — which quit Formosa a year ago, more or less in despair. Frank Alman was a U. S. consular officer in China for many years.

General Wharton is an old China hand who talks aggressively about, "When are we going to get Chiang back on the mainland?" Bullis and Morrison are going to Formosa for the first time, to view with unprejudiced eyes.

When the Bullis team returns to Washington it will report to the new Mutual Security Administrator, Harold E. Stassen, on what more it thinks should be done on Formosa—if anything. In view of all the talk there is now about turning Chiang Kai-shek loose against the mainland, it should be a hot report.

For three days and a couple of nights before its departure from Washington, the Bullis team was briefed by Pentagon, State Department, MSA and other experts on what American aid had been given Formosa and the Nationalist Chinese government in the past.

It was a colossal review of what has been keeping Chiang Kai-shek's ship of state afloat. Without American aid it would have unquestionably gone down.

Gave $1.64 Billion in Four Years

The Nationalist government moved from the mainland to Formosa in December, 1949. From the end of World War 2 until that time the U. S. had given the Nationalists $1.64 billion in grants and credit.

The move to Formosa started a new set of books. American economic aid to Formosa was $40 million in 1950, $80 million in 1951, $70 million in 1952 and $85 million scheduled for this year. The total is $275 million. What will be given next year is up to the new Congress.

Military aid figures are a little bit harder to come by. No figures on military assistance are given out on a country-by-country basis. For the Pacific, the figures for Formosa are lumped in with those for Indo-China, the Philippines, Thailand and Burma.

Deliveries to this whole area up to last Dec. 31 were valued at $584 million. For the period ending next June 30, deliveries of $1.514 billion are scheduled. So the program is about one third completed.

In other areas, military aid has been about double economic aid. On this basis, Formosa would be getting around $500 million to $600 million worth of military supplies from the U. S. Other sources confirm this with reports that Formosa has been given about $200 million worth of military supplies a year.

On the economic front, for the first time in more than 2000 years of Chinese history, its government has a budget which can be believed. For 1952 it showed central government receipts of 1592 million Taiwan dollars, with expenditures of 1639 million Taiwan dollars.

The deficit, calculated on an exchange rate of 13.5 for one U. S. dollar, is equivalent to $3.5 million a year. Even these figures are slightly deceptive, however, as some 200 million Taiwan dollars from U. S. MSA counterpart funds—$15 million—are counted as receipts.

America Bolstered Military Budget

The military budget of the central government for 1952 was put at 1309 million Taiwan dollars, or roughly 80 per cent of the total. That is nearly $80 million. It is a figure too high for the island to support and it could not be done without American subsidy.

The Chinese Nationalist gold reserve, brought from the mainland, is now believed to be low, but there is no accurate count on it.

Formosa reported a favorable trade balance last year with imports at $118 million and exports of $122 million. The big items of export were $23 million in rice and $70 million in sugar, shipped largely to Japan. But the import figure is padded by $96 million worth of U. S. economic and military support supplies which China got free.

The total picture, in summary, is now regarded in Washington as not all rosy, but not all black. The young liberals that Chiang has gathered about him have a zeal to make Formosa a shining light.

Bank interest rates have been forced down from the old 100 per cent a year to a more reasonable 42—that is, 3½ per cent a month. Graft has been made unfashionable. Inflation is no worse than it was.

If the Nationalists ever did get back in control on the mainland, their leaders at least would have learned the hard way how to run a good government.

Nationalist China has a four-year-plan to make its economy self-supporting by 1957, so as to get off U. S. aid. The plan is not considered realistic, however, because any stepped-up military operations would throw it into the discard.

British Action at Singapore Hailed as Valuable Assistance in Keeping War Goods From Reds

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Feb. 20—Sometimes an important development in international relations is obscured by an overemphasis on a word or phrase—such as, for instance, "blockade."

For the truth is, there is already what amounts to a blockade in effect against shipments of goods to Red China, only it isn't called by that name. There are some significant dispatches scattered through the news of the last few days which, when pieced together, tell more eloquently than all the speeches inside or outside Congress that the American insistence on isolating Red China is bearing fruit.

Thus, a United Press dispatch from Singapore reveals that the police in that British port "have assumed control of the Finnish tanker Wiima and its 7,000 tons of jet fuel destined for Communist China" which had anchored 16 miles outside the harbor. The dispatch says "acting on orders from a 'higher authority'—presumably the British Government—the police declared the ship to be inside Singapore's territorial waters."

This is a commendable step on the part of the British Government and will be acclaimed throughout the United States as a timely assist in the effort to keep aviation gasoline from reaching the planes that are attacking United Nations planes in Korea.

Another press dispatch just in from Dunkerque, France, says the French Government "has moved to stop the proposed shipment of a cargo of sheet iron to the Chinese Communists from this port." A freighter was due to leave on February 25 with the sheet iron. The dispatch adds that the French Government, learning of the plan, "feared that the shipment might make a bad impression in the United States at a time when Premier Rene Mayer is preparing to visit Washington to seek more defense aid."

This action, too, will be applauded in America as a piece of timely cooperation.

But the most interesting and dramatic piece of news came also from Singapore, where Captain Christian Sorensen, master of a Danish freighter, said, "American-type planes, apparently from the Philippines, are keeping a close watch on the shipping lanes leading to Communist China." He added:

"Beginning a week ago, for three days in succession, as we were steaming through the South China Sea, twin-engined American aircraft appeared every forenoon to give us the once over. They circled us many times, perhaps taking photographs. They came from the east, probably the Philippines, where the United States has air bases."

This brought forth the comment from the U. S. Navy in Washington that surveillance of the shipping lanes in the Far East was a "routine" part of its Formosa patrol.

It will be recalled that dispatches from Peiping recently stated that Red China was being given six submarines by Soviet Russia. It is known that the American navy, in order to protect its warships now moving around in the Far East, exercises close scrutiny over every ship that might possibly be heading for Korea and makes a record of the location of such vessels.

Back in 1940, before the United States entered World War 2, the American navy carried on its observations by planes and destroyers all the way across the Atlantic and helped to spot submarines that were believed to be planning to attack American merchant ships bound for Europe. It is said that much of this information concerning the location of Nazi submarines found its way to the British Navy, which at that time was applying a blockade against contraband cargoes and also fighting the Nazi submarines. It is possible that the locating of all vessels in the vicinity of Communist China is a check-up needed for the benefit of any blockade operations that may arise in the future. Maybe the Chinese Nationalist navy, if it is given the primary task of blockade, will get such assistance in spotting contraband-carrying ships.

Actually the UN has imposed an embargo on trade in strategic materials between members of the UN and Red China. There isn't much difference between a blockade and an embargo so far as objectives are concerned. The real question now is not whether there should be a "blockade" but whether the existing methods of blocking trade with Red China shall be intensified and how it shall be accomplished.

Representative Battle of Alabama, Democrat, author of the Battle Act—which restricts trade with Iron Curtain countries—and a member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, says that unless other countries clamp down more tightly on unchecked shipments through Europe's "free ports," stricter rules will be applied to withhold U. S. aid from any nation which sends war or atomic materials to Iron Curtain countries. The case for a "blockade" is, therefore, rapidly being developed, and there are evidences that the allies are giving more serious consideration than ever before to steps that will keep strategic materials from ever reaching Red China by water routes.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

In pursuit of my purpose to discredit Drew Pearson by proving that he is a liar, a faker and a political conspirator with a strong preference for Communists, shown by the fact that he regularly employed at least two Communists, I present today further testimony in the investigation of the flight of General Pang Tsu Mow. Mow is a Chinese procurement officer who was attached to the mission of the Republic of China in Washington. He fled to Mexico where he was arrested last August by Mexican federal police on the authority of the office of the Mexican Attorney General. The testimony which I present was given under oath by John G. Broady, a New York lawyer representing the Republic of China, to a subcommittee of the Senate Judiciary Committee last Dec. 2 in Washington.

The Nationalist Chinese government seeks to recover about $7,000,000 and to extradite Mow to Formosa. Other officers associated with Mow fled to Communist China. If Mow should be extradited to Formosa he might be put to death. Pearson's own lawyer, William A. Roberts, of Washington, is attorney for General Mow and I have already presented testimony by Broady that Mow, in jail in Mexico, told him, in substance, "that he had been referred to Roberts and, I believe introduced to Roberts, by Drew Pearson or by Drew Pearson's leg-man, Jack Anderson."

The ensuing testimony by Broady may be rather complex, requiring concentration on the part of the reader, so let us have order in the court.

Edward R. Duffy, the investigator for the subcommittee, was conducting the examination in the presence of Senator Arthur V. Watkins, of Utah, presiding.

Mr. Duffy asked: "do you know whether any attempts were made to verify whether Roberts cashed or redeemed a $100,000 U. S. treasury bill which had been purchased by Mow with funds which he had embezzled from the Republic of China?"

Broady replied: "yes; that information is verified."

Mr. Duffy: "and what information was ascertained in this regard?"

Mr. Broady: "well, I have here with me, pursuant to the committee's subpoena, all of the documents which show this transaction."

Mr. Duffy: "what documents do you have, Mr. Broady? And what do these documents purport to show?"

Mr. Broady: "I have with me a transcript of the special account opened by Colonel William A. Roberts, with Morris Cohon & Company, brokers, 42 Broadway, New York city, on Feb. 11, 1952, and on that date this special account was opened with a $100,000 U. S. treasury bill dated Nov. 15, 1951, and due Feb. 14, 1952. The proceeds of this U. S. treasury bill were credited to this special account of William A. Roberts on Feb. 18, 1952, which put a balance in the account of $100,000, and this $100,000 was checked out of the account as follows:

I have ascertained that the $100,000 U. S. Treasury bill which Roberts deposited in this special account was U. S. Treasury Bill No. 931677 (four asterisks) payable to bearer and was part of the $2,000,000 worth of U. S. Treasury bills which Pang Tsu Mow had purchased on or about Nov. 15, 1951, from Chemical Bank and Trust Company, Rockefeller Center branch, New York, with funds embezzled from Republic of China. This is one of the U. S. Treasury bills which Mow told me on the day of his arrest, August 9, 1952, that Roberts knew had been purchased with funds of the Republic of China.

Broady went on to state that Morris Cohon and Company drew a check for $26,000 payable to William A. Roberts, which was certified and endorsed "William A. Roberts, deposit to account of Roberts & McGinnis in the Riggs National Bank in Washington." He then testified to a charge of $10,000 against Roberts' special account with Morris Cohon & Company and pointed out that the check in this instance had been endorsed by Morris Cohon & Company and by one Oliver Kisich. He interpreted this procedure to indicate that Roberts "was attempting to conceal his payments to Kisich." Otherwise, he suggested, Roberts would have endorsed the check himself instead of having his brokers buy it from Bankers Trust, charging the $10,000 to his account, and having the brokers endorse it, too.

Kisich is an ex-employe of the American State Department who gave assistance to Mow in get-

GI Chickens Produce

With U. S. 45th Division, Korea (AP) — A few hundred yards from Communist positions in Korea chickens are busily laying eggs for the men of Company B, 160th Infantry Regiment. The poultry farm was started by Capt. William J. Clarke to provide fresh eggs for breakfast. The six chickens and a rooster, of Korean origin, are housed in a special cage of wire and sandbags for protection against incoming artillery and mortar fire. Apparently nerveless, the hens are producing amply. Their daily diet includes barley, popcorn, breakfast cereal and beans.

It is believed that the art of making stained-glass windows was originated about the ninth century.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, FEBRUARY 20, 1953

NEWBURGH FOR KINGSTON BRIDGE

A bill has been introduced in the Legislature calling for an $18,000,000 bridge across the Hudson River, linking Beacon and Newburgh. The bill stipulates, however, that the project may not be undertaken until after the Kingston-Rhinecliff span is completed.

The bill provides that the bridge would be paid for from tolls of all bridges under jurisdiction of the Bridge Authority.

It is stated that the proposed bill would increase the authorized indebtedness of the New York State Bridge Authority from $30,000,000 to $50,000,000.

Several years ago Governor Dewey signed into law a bill authorizing the Bridge Authority to issue bonds up to $30,000,000 for the construction of the Kingston-Rhinecliff Bridge.

It would seem from the stipulation—the Kingston-Rhinecliff span must be erected first—that Newburgh and Beacon for their own interests will seek immediate construction of the bridge here and the following editorial in the Newburgh News bears out this thought:

"It is seven years ago this time when legislation for Kingston-Rhinecliff Bridge was being considered in Albany. Initially, Newburgh and Beacon were inclined to oppose the project. It appeared that their efforts for a bridge might be handicapped because of restrictions on new bridges embodied in the Legislature. However, a statement by Senator Arthur H. Wicks of Kingston clarified the situation. He noted that the Kingston bridge bill could be changed when the Newburgh Bay structure was projected.

"Senator Wicks and Assemblyman Lee B. Mailler have since been working closely on bridge matters. Newburgh and Beacon have helped Kingston with its bridge, and Kingston will help our cities with their bridge. The three cities are alert to possible attempts by Poughkeepsie to secure an undue advantage for its bridge."

With this thought also in mind it might be a very good idea if a Newburgh resident was appointed to the Bridge Authority.

BLOCKADE THREAT

The Communists have told West Germany that signing the European defense treaty next month will mean a new blockade of Berlin. This must be distressing news to Berlin residents who remember the hardships imposed by the Russian blockade of 1948 which was lifted only when the Western air-lift made it ineffective.

The threat of blockade is a two-edged weapon in the hands of the Reds. Germans fear the suffering that will inevitably come if the city of Berlin is isolated. They also have an intense fear of anything which may bring on another war. A blockade would strain the tempers of both East and West and would increase the chances of an incident which would provoke World War III.

The Red threat appears to be a desperate effort on the part of the Communists to regain the initiative they have lost in the cold war. The withdrawal of the United States Seventh Fleet from the blockade of Formosa, the possibility of a blockade of China and the progress of European unity seem to have shaken the Reds.

The Western powers learned a great deal in the Berlin blockade of 1948. If Berlin should be isolated again that experience can be put to work in a hurry. Some observers see the Red announcement of the threatened blockade as a serious mistake. If the Russians are bluffing it is likely that the bluff will be called. If they are not bluffing their threat will serve as a warning to the East to be prepared.

U. S. TROOPS' HEROIC EFFORTS

A suggestion has been made that the heroic service rendered by the United States troops in their assignment to Holland during the disastrous floods be recognized by the City of Kingston.

In appreciation of the self-sacrificing endeavors of our soldiers while on rescue duty in Holland there should be sent a citation accompanied by a suitable gift. These men who risked their own safety to help a fellowman in distress renews our faith in mankind. We should not let these heroic efforts go unnoticed.

'These Days'

THE ATTACK ON DULLES

New Deal members of Congress and New Deal columnists have selected the Secretary of State, John Foster Dulles, as the target of attack. They may be diverted temporarily into attacking the Secretary of Agriculture, Ezra Taft Benson, but Benson deals in tangibles and his program will stand or fall on statistics. Dulles, on the other hand, must concern himself with intangible factors and with other men's secrets, and therefore it is less difficult to distort his position.

The theory of this operation is that it would be bad policy to go after President Eisenhower so early in his career and while he enjoys great personal popularity. But valuable political time could be gained if members of his Cabinet were used as clay pigeons. Furthermore, under the two-party system, it is the function of the opposition to expose the party in power to the public view.

However, John Foster Dulles has achieved so much in almost no time that his opponents will find it difficult to make their criticism stick. Even Adlai Stevenson, who is a more objective and fair opponent than most, misread the situation in Europe due to a preconditioning of his thinking along Acheson lines. It is inevitable that he will correct his views after President Eisenhower places before him (as he will do before this is printed) the evidence that Dulles was forced to visit Europe even before he could organize his office, and speak as frankly as he did, because our position there was deteriorating to a point where a Russian diplomatic victory was in sight.

Partly this deterioration was due to our election system. Candidates were nominted in July; They were voted upon in November; the victor took office in January. For six long months, no American policy could be pursued with certainty; for six long months, the Kremlin was able to move swiftly and effectively in the direction of neutralism. In France and Germany, this campaign appeared in the sabotaging of the Lisbon Treaty, so that not a single country has yet ratified it. The degree of our aid to Europe depends upon the fulfillment of the Lisbon program setting up the measure of self-help by the Europeans.

Dulles employed open diplomacy, to which neither the American people nor the Europeans have been accustomed since 1938, when President Roosevelt interested himself actively in the developing European crisis. It takes some adjustment to switch from secret diplomacy, involving deceits, to open diplomacy, which takes the people into the confidence of their governments.

The principal attack is to be made on China Policy. The attack is to be made by Senators Humphrey and Mansfield, who are not Far Eastern experts.

It might be pointed out in this connection that after John Foster Dulles took office and while he was in Europe an instruction was issued in the Voice of America, signed by W. Bradley Connors, citing Howard Fast, the Communist writer, as the type of controversial person who could be used propagandistically. Connors instructed that Fast's works might be given special credibility under certain circumstances. This is one of several evidences of the sabotage of the Eisenhower-Dulles policies by a State Department agency. This particular incident has already been investigated by Senator McCarthy's committee in executive session at which, it is understood, Fast took the usual plea under the Fifth Amendment.

The Far Eastern Policy of our country involves American lives, since we are actually at war with Soviet China in Korea and we have already suffered 130,000 casualties. It would do the United States no harm to have a full-dress debate on our policy, provided a full investigation is made of the errors since 1943 (Teheran).

For instance, a thorough study still needs to be made of General George Marshall's activities in relation to the truce between the Nationalists and the Communists in Manchuria, as a result of which the Communists were able to conquer China. Those truce talks were not unlike the ones that for 19 months have been taking place in Korea between the United States and the Communists.

Also, a full study ought to be made of aid to Nationalist China even when Chiang Kai-shek was our ally. The Chinese contend that they did not receive such aid as appears on our books. What happened to it?

It was a colossal review of what has been keeping Chiang Kai-shek's ship of state afloat. Without American aid it would have unquestionably gone down.

Gave $1.64 Billion in Four Years

The Nationalist government moved from the mainland to Formosa in December, 1949. From the end of World War 2 until that time the U. S. had given the Nationalists $1.64 billion in grants and credit.

The move to Formosa started a new set of books. American economic aid to Formosa was $40 million in 1950, $80 million in 1951, $70 million in 1952 and $85 million scheduled for this year. The total is $275 million. What will be given next year is up to the new Congress.

Military aid figures are a little bit harder to come by. No figures on military assistance are given out on a country-by-country basis. For the Pacific, the figures for Formosa are lumped in with those for Indo-China, the Philippines, Thailand and Burma.

Deliveries to this whole area up to last Dec. 31 were valued at $584 million. For the period ending next June 30, deliveries of $1.514 billion are scheduled. So the program is about one third completed.

In other areas, military aid has been about double economic aid. On this basis, Formosa would be getting around $500 million to $600 million worth of military supplies from the U. S. Other sources confirm this with reports that Formosa has been given about $200 million worth of military supplies a year.

On the economic front, for the first time in more than 2000 years of Chinese history, its government has a budget which can be believed. For 1952 it showed central government receipts of 1592 million Taiwan dollars, with expenditures of 1639 million Taiwan dollars.

The deficit, calculated on an exchange rate of 13.5 for one U. S. dollar, is equivalent to $3.5 million a year. Even these figures are slightly deceptive, however, as some 200 million Taiwan dollars from U. S. MSA counterpart funds—$15 million—are counted as receipts.

America Bolstered Military Budget

The military budget of the central government for 1952 was put at 1309 million Taiwan dollars, or roughly 80 per cent of the total. That is nearly $80 million. It is a figure too high for the island to support and it could not be done without American subsidy.

The Chinese Nationalist gold reserve, brought from the mainland, is now believed to be low, but there is no accurate count on it.

Formosa reported a favorable trade balance last year with imports at $118 million and exports of $122 million. The big items of export were $23 million in rice and $70 million in sugar, shipped largely to Japan. But the import figure is padded by $96 million worth of U. S. economic and military support supplies which China got free.

The total picture, in summary, is now regarded in Washington as not all rosy, but not all black. The young liberals that Chiang has gathered about him have a zeal to make Formosa a shining light.

Bank interest rates have been forced down from the old 100 per cent a year to a more reasonable 42—that is, 3½ per cent a month. Graft has been made unfashionable. Inflation is no worse than it was.

If the Nationalists ever did get back in control on the mainland, their leaders at least would have learned the hard way how to run a good government.

Nationalist China has a four-year-plan to make its economy self-supporting by 1957, so as to get off U. S. aid. The plan is not considered realistic, however, because any stepped-up military operations would throw it into the discard.

British Action at Singapore Hailed as Valuable Assistance in Keeping War Goods From Reds

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Feb. 20—Sometimes an important development in international relations is obscured by an overemphasis on a word or phrase—such as, for instance, "blockade."

For the truth is, there is already what amounts to a blockade in effect against shipments of goods to Red China, only it isn't called by that name. There are some significant dispatches scattered through the news of the last few days which, when pieced together, tell more eloquently than all the speeches inside or outside Congress that the American insistence on isolating Red China is bearing fruit.

Thus, a United Press dispatch from Singapore reveals that the police in that British port "have assumed control of the Finnish tanker Wiima and its 7,000 tons of jet fuel destined for Communist China" which had anchored 16 miles outside the harbor. The dispatch says "acting on orders from a 'higher authority'—presumably the British Government—the police declared the ship to be inside Singapore's territorial waters."

This is a commendable step on the part of the British Government and will be acclaimed throughout the United States as a timely assist in the effort to keep aviation gasoline from reaching the planes that are attacking United Nations planes in Korea.

Another press dispatch just in from Dunkerque, France, says the French Government "has moved to stop the proposed shipment of a cargo of sheet iron to the Chinese Communists from this port." A freighter was due to leave on February 25 with the sheet iron. The dispatch adds that the French Government, learning of the plan, "feared that the shipment might make a bad impression in the United States at a time when Premier Rene Mayer is preparing to visit Washington to seek more defense aid."

This action, too, will be applauded in America as a piece of timely cooperation.

But the most interesting and dramatic piece of news came also from Singapore, where Captain Christian Sorensen, master of a Danish freighter, said, "American-type planes, apparently from the Philippines, are keeping a close watch on the shipping lanes leading to Communist China." He added:

"Beginning a week ago, for three days in succession, as we were steaming through the South China Sea, twin-engined American aircraft appeared every forenoon to give us the once over. They circled us many times, perhaps taking photographs. They came from the east, probably the Philippines, where the United States has air bases."

This brought forth the comment from the U. S. Navy in Washington that surveillance of the shipping lanes in the Far East was a "routine" part of its Formosa patrol.

It will be recalled that dispatches from Peiping recently stated that Red China was being given six submarines by Soviet Russia. It is known that the American navy, in order to protect its warships now moving around in the Far East, exercises close scrutiny over every ship that might possibly be heading for Korea and makes a record of the location of such vessels.

Back in 1940, before the United States entered World War 2, the American navy carried on its observations by planes and destroyers all the way across the Atlantic and helped to spot submarines that were believed to be planning to attack American merchant ships bound for Europe. It is said that much of this information concerning the location of Nazi submarines found its way to the British Navy, which at that time was applying a blockade against contraband cargoes and also fighting the Nazi submarines. It is possible that the locating of all vessels in the vicinity of Communist China is a check-up needed for the benefit of any blockade operations that may arise in the future. Maybe the Chinese Nationalist navy, if it is given the primary task of blockade, will get such assistance in spotting contraband-carrying ships.

Actually the UN has imposed an embargo on trade in strategic materials between members of the UN and Red China. There isn't much difference between a blockade and an embargo so far as objectives are concerned. The real question now is not whether there should be a "blockade" but whether the existing methods of blocking trade with Red China shall be intensified and how it shall be accomplished.

Representative Battle of Alabama, Democrat, author of the Battle Act—which restricts trade with Iron Curtain countries—and a member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, says that unless other countries clamp down more tightly on unchecked shipments through Europe's "free ports," stricter rules will be applied to withhold U. S. aid from any nation which sends war or atomic materials to Iron Curtain countries. The case for a "blockade" is, therefore, rapidly being developed, and there are evidences that the allies are giving more serious consideration than ever before to steps that will keep strategic materials from ever reaching Red China by water routes.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

In pursuit of my purpose to discredit Drew Pearson by proving that he is a liar, a faker and a political conspirator with a strong preference for Communists, shown by the fact that he regularly employed at least two Communists, I present today further testimony in the investigation of the flight of General Pang Tsu Mow. Mow is a Chinese procurement officer who was attached to the mission of the Republic of China in Washington. He fled to Mexico where he was arrested last August by Mexican federal police on the authority of the office of the Mexican Attorney General. The testimony which I present was given under oath by John G. Broady, a New York lawyer representing the Republic of China, to a subcommittee of the Senate Judiciary Committee last Dec. 2 in Washington.

The Nationalist Chinese government seeks to recover about $7,000,000 and to extradite Mow to Formosa. Other officers associated with Mow fled to Communist China. If Mow should be extradited to Formosa he might be put to death. Pearson's own lawyer, William A. Roberts, of Washington, is attorney for General Mow and I have already presented testimony by Broady that Mow, in jail in Mexico, told him, in substance, "that he had been referred to Roberts and, I believe introduced to Roberts, by Drew Pearson or by Drew Pearson's leg-man, Jack Anderson."

The ensuing testimony by Broady may be rather complex, requiring concentration on the part of the reader, so let us have order in the court.

Edward R. Duffy, the investigator for the subcommittee, was conducting the examination in the presence of Senator Arthur V. Watkins, of Utah, presiding.

Mr. Duffy asked: "do you know whether any attempts were made to verify whether Roberts cashed or redeemed a $100,000 U. S. treasury bill which had been purchased by Mow with funds which he had embezzled from the Republic of China?"

Broady replied: "yes; that information is verified."

Mr. Duffy: "and what information was ascertained in this regard?"

Mr. Broady: "well, I have here with me, pursuant to the committee's subpoena, all of the documents which show this transaction."

Mr. Duffy: "what documents do you have, Mr. Broady? And what do these documents purport to show?"

Mr. Broady: "I have with me a transcript of the special account opened by Colonel William A. Roberts, with Morris Cohon & Company, brokers, 42 Broadway, New York city, on Feb. 11, 1952, and on that date this special account was opened with a $100,000 U. S. treasury bill dated Nov. 15, 1951, and due Feb. 14, 1952. The proceeds of this U. S. treasury bill were credited to this special account of William A. Roberts on Feb. 18, 1952, which put a balance in the account of $100,000, and this $100,000 was checked out of the account as follows:

I have ascertained that the $100,000 U. S. Treasury bill which Roberts deposited in this special account was U. S. Treasury Bill No. 931677 (four asterisks) payable to bearer and was part of the $2,000,000 worth of U. S. Treasury bills which Pang Tsu Mow had purchased on or about Nov. 15, 1951, from Chemical Bank and Trust Company, Rockefeller Center branch, New York, with funds embezzled from Republic of China. This is one of the U. S. Treasury bills which Mow told me on the day of his arrest, August 9, 1952, that Roberts knew had been purchased with funds of the Republic of China.

Broady went on to state that Morris Cohon and Company drew a check for $26,000 payable to William A. Roberts, which was certified and endorsed "William A. Roberts, deposit to account of Roberts & McGinnis in the Riggs National Bank in Washington." He then testified to a charge of $10,000 against Roberts' special account with Morris Cohon & Company and pointed out that the check in this instance had been endorsed by Morris Cohon & Company and by one Oliver Kisich. He interpreted this procedure to indicate that Roberts "was attempting to conceal his payments to Kisich." Otherwise, he suggested, Roberts would have endorsed the check himself instead of having his brokers buy it from Bankers Trust, charging the $10,000 to his account, and having the brokers endorse it, too.

Kisich is an ex-employe of the American State Department who gave assistance to Mow in get-

GI Chickens Produce

With U. S. 45th Division, Korea (AP) — A few hundred yards from Communist positions in Korea chickens are busily laying eggs for the men of Company B, 160th Infantry Regiment. The poultry farm was started by Capt. William J. Clarke to provide fresh eggs for breakfast. The six chickens and a rooster, of Korean origin, are housed in a special cage of wire and sandbags for protection against incoming artillery and mortar fire. Apparently nerveless, the hens are producing amply. Their daily diet includes barley, popcorn, breakfast cereal and beans.

It is believed that the art of making stained-glass windows was originated about the ninth century.

Nursery Parents Hear Kindergarten Teacher

Woodstock, Feb. 20—Mrs. Sylva Hutchins, kindergarten teacher at the Woodstock Elementary School, was the guest speaker at the meeting of the Tinker Street Nursery School, Thursday evening, Feb. 12.

"Kindergarten children who have had nursery school experience are more mature, and they adjust more easily to school routines," Mrs. Hutchins told the nursery school parents.

Mrs. Hutchins has observed that the nursery school child has greater resistance to illness since he has already been through the first difficult year in school. "These children," she continued, "are more adept in their school relationships and in their use of school materials."

She answered questions concerning kindergarten routines and rules. She gave the age for entry into kindergarten, which was a matter of interest to all of the parents in the nursery school.

The business meeting was directed by Mrs. William Stifler, president. Mrs. Rudolph Wetterau read the secretary's report in the absence of Mrs. Barbara Moncure. Mrs. Irving Kalish gave the treasurer's report.

It was announced that Jeremy Wilber was starting at the nursery school on Monday, February 16.

Recently the children at the school visited the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Short in this village. The youngsters inspected the puppies, a goat, chickens, and a young deer that lives in a nearby woods, and comes to the farm for food every day. Mrs. Raymond Gilkey, teacher, and Mrs. Irving Kalish, a parent, supervised the children on their trip.

Nursing Committee Plans Benefit Dance

Woodstock, Feb. 20—It has been announced by Mrs. Charles King, chairman of the square dance committee for the Woodstock Public Health Nursing Committee, that the benefit box supper and dance will be held Saturday, April 25, at the Town House. The box supper will be served from 6 to 8 p. m., to be followed by square dancing from 8 to 12 p. m. Music will be provided by the Dog Patch Dudes.

Mrs. King will be assisted in plans for the party by the following committee: Mrs. George Laws, Mrs. Melvin Leshen, Mrs. Anna Kamen, Mrs. Victor Busch, Mrs. Carl Hubbell, Mrs. John Striebel and Mrs. Richard E. Thibaut, Jr.

Bus Trip Postponed

Woodstock, Feb. 20—The date of the bus trip to New York, sponsored by the Woodstock unit of the Home Bureau, has been changed from Tuesday, March 10, to Thursday, March 12. The bus will leave, as on previous trips, from the Woodstock village green at 7 a. m., and will begin its return trip from New York at 7 p. m. Reservations for the trip may be made by calling Woodstock 2105, or Woodstock 2020.

Sculptress Protests Committee Selections

Woodstock, Feb. 20—A letter of protest on an American jury's selection of 11 pieces of sculpture, all abstract, to represent the work of this country's sculptors in an international competition, was drawn up at a meeting of sculptors called by Amy Gans Small, sculptress of this village, and member of the planning committee of Artists Equity. The letter, according to the New York Herald Tribune, was set Monday, Feb. 16, to the British chairman of the contest.

"The protest," according to the Tribune, "was approved by the executive boards of three art organizations, the National Sculptors' Society, the Sculptors' Guild and the New York Chapter of Artists Equity, before it was mailed Monday to A. J. T. Klornan, chairman of the International Sculptor Competition sponsored by the Institute of Contemporary Arts at London."

In a review of the exhibition of the 11 works Emily Genauer, art critic of the New York Herald Tribune, wrote on February 1: "Could the jury have bent over backward in nominating chiefly a group of abstractionists for these awards for a public monument to an unknown political prisoner because subconsciously and understandably it was mindful of how the dictatorships have made political prisoners of artists working in the abstract idiom? Did it, thereby, manifest its own possible and unwitting imprisonment by certain pressure groups for perhaps transient aesthetic styles?" The theme of the contest was The Unknown Political Prisoner.

A Plea for Pets

Editor, The Freeman:

I am writing this in an attempt, if possible, to bring to the minds of the automobile drivers, who are so careless and brutal, as to hit a dog or cat, some idea of the sorrow and heartaches that are caused by this carelessness in hitting, maiming and brutally injuring our pets.

Our beautiful registered thoroughbred Airedale dog, spayed female, was struck down on a perfectly straight piece of road. Our Bonnie was on the righthand side of the road. There was no other car at this location at the time, 11:15 a. m., Feb. 5, 1953. He made no attempt to avoid our dog at all. He could have pulled to the left. But no, just went right straight ahead, struck her so hard that her back was broken. But I fear there are many more just like him. This type of man will say it was only a dog. But if these vicious people could know the sorrow and heartaches at the loss of our very best and loyal friend and pal they might stop to think before running their cars over a dog.

How many of you dear readers have seen little children crying helplessly at the sight of their pet bruised and suffering. Many have to be shot or mercifully put to sleep by one of our valued veterinarians after being hit by one of these vicious drivers.

I often wonder why there can be no real punishment for any driver who commits such a crime against the public who have hearts big enough to love and raise a member of our family, a pal so good and faithful as our dog. Drivers of autos should remember that someone loved that dog, no matter large or small, pure bred or mixed bred.

However, our Bonnie was injured so badly she could not get up. Her back was broken. I called Ray Winne, our special agent of the Ulster County SPCA. The minutes seemed like hours but I am sure Mr. Winnie was here with the ambulance in just about eight minutes. We carefully took her to Dr. Hoppenstedt who took X-ray pictures. But as nothing could be done for our Bonnie I had to say goodby to one of the loveliest dogs I ever saw as Dr. Hoppenstedt mercifully put her to sleep.

Please, you can spare a few moments to read this. Will you please think before you hit a dog. No human could have had better care than our Bonnie.

Appreciation

February 16, 1953

Editor, The Freeman:

Last year I wrote a "blistering" letter to your paper about conditions at the South Sterling street dump, and now I feel compelled to turnabout and say "Congratulations" to the city administration.

Within the past few weeks, I have watched with a feeling of intense surprise each time a city truck would pull up with a load of clean fill and deposit it on top of the dump. Neat little piles sprang up all over, and then it was levelled off. Now it is beginning to look like a "garden spot," and I, for one, want to say "Thanks."

Sincerely,

ting to Mexico and getting settled.

Broady next testified to a transaction whereby $20,000 more found its way from Roberts' special account with Morris Cohon to the account of Roberts & McGinnis in the National Metropolitan Bank of Washington. Next he presented photostatic copies of checks representing $15,000 apparently paid to Kisich inasmuch as his endorsement appeared. Then he handed the committee a photostatic copy of a check for $29,000 from Morris Cohon to William Roberts, endorsed "William Roberts, Roberts & McGinnis."

Broady said: "That check shows that out of the total of $100,000 received by Roberts from the redemption of this $100,000 U. S. Treasury bill purchased with funds embezzled by Roberts' client, Mow, after Roberts commenced to represent Mow, $75,000 went into the till of Roberts & McGinnis and $25,000 went to Kisich."

BACK in the old days, any man who wanted real performance used a "cut-out" on his car.

It was a device that by-passed the muffler—because mufflers have always cut down on usable power. But it made a lot of noise.

Nursery Parents Hear Kindergarten Teacher

Woodstock, Feb. 20—Mrs. Sylva Hutchins, kindergarten teacher at the Woodstock Elementary School, was the guest speaker at the meeting of the Tinker Street Nursery School, Thursday evening, Feb. 12.

"Kindergarten children who have had nursery school experience are more mature, and they adjust more easily to school routines," Mrs. Hutchins told the nursery school parents.

Mrs. Hutchins has observed that the nursery school child has greater resistance to illness since he has already been through the first difficult year in school. "These children," she continued, "are more adept in their school relationships and in their use of school materials."

She answered questions concerning kindergarten routines and rules. She gave the age for entry into kindergarten, which was a matter of interest to all of the parents in the nursery school.

The business meeting was directed by Mrs. William Stifler, president. Mrs. Rudolph Wetterau read the secretary's report in the absence of Mrs. Barbara Moncure. Mrs. Irving Kalish gave the treasurer's report.

It was announced that Jeremy Wilber was starting at the nursery school on Monday, February 16.

Recently the children at the school visited the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Short in this village. The youngsters inspected the puppies, a goat, chickens, and a young deer that lives in a nearby woods, and comes to the farm for food every day. Mrs. Raymond Gilkey, teacher, and Mrs. Irving Kalish, a parent, supervised the children on their trip.

The bus will leave, as on previous trips, from the Woodstock village green at 7 a. m., and will begin its return trip from New York at 7 p. m. Reservations for the trip may be made by calling Woodstock 2105, or Woodstock 2020.

Sculptress Protests Committee Selections

Woodstock, Feb. 20—A letter of protest on an American jury's selection of 11 pieces of sculpture, all abstract, to represent the work of this country's sculptors in an international competition, was drawn up at a meeting of sculptors called by Amy Gans Small, sculptress of this village, and member of the planning committee of Artists Equity. The letter, according to the New York Herald Tribune, was set Monday, Feb. 16, to the British chairman of the contest.

"The protest," according to the Tribune, "was approved by the executive boards of three art organizations, the National Sculptors' Society, the Sculptors' Guild and the New York Chapter of Artists Equity, before it was mailed Monday to A. J. T. Klornan, chairman of the International Sculptor Competition sponsored by the Institute of Contemporary Arts at London."

In a review of the exhibition of the 11 works Emily Genauer, art critic of the New York Herald Tribune, wrote on February 1: "Could the jury have bent over backward in nominating chiefly a group of abstractionists for these awards for a public monument to an unknown political prisoner because subconsciously and understandably it was mindful of how the dictatorships have made political prisoners of artists working in the abstract idiom? Did it, thereby, manifest its own possible and unwitting imprisonment by certain pressure groups for perhaps transient aesthetic styles?" The theme of the contest was The Unknown Political Prisoner.

A Plea for Pets

Editor, The Freeman:

I am writing this in an attempt, if possible, to bring to the minds of the automobile drivers, who are so careless and brutal, as to hit a dog or cat, some idea of the sorrow and heartaches that are caused by this carelessness in hitting, maiming and brutally injuring our pets.

Our beautiful registered thoroughbred Airedale dog, spayed female, was struck down on a perfectly straight piece of road. Our Bonnie was on the righthand side of the road. There was no other car at this location at the time, 11:15 a. m., Feb. 5, 1953. He made no attempt to avoid our dog at all. He could have pulled to the left. But no, just went right straight ahead, struck her so hard that her back was broken. But I fear there are many more just like him. This type of man will say it was only a dog. But if these vicious people could know the sorrow and heartaches at the loss of our very best and loyal friend and pal they might stop to think before running their cars over a dog.

How many of you dear readers have seen little children crying helplessly at the sight of their pet bruised and suffering. Many have to be shot or mercifully put to sleep by one of our valued veterinarians after being hit by one of these vicious drivers.

I often wonder why there can be no real punishment for any driver who commits such a crime against the public who have hearts big enough to love and raise a member of our family, a pal so good and faithful as our dog. Drivers of autos should remember that someone loved that dog, no matter large or small, pure bred or mixed bred.

However, our Bonnie was injured so badly she could not get up. Her back was broken. I called Ray Winne, our special agent of the Ulster County SPCA. The minutes seemed like hours but I am sure Mr. Winnie was here with the ambulance in just about eight minutes. We carefully took her to Dr. Hoppenstedt who took X-ray pictures. But as nothing could be done for our Bonnie I had to say goodby to one of the loveliest dogs I ever saw as Dr. Hoppenstedt mercifully put her to sleep.

Please, you can spare a few moments to read this. Will you please think before you hit a dog. No human could have had better care than our Bonnie.

Appreciation

February 16, 1953

Editor, The Freeman:

Last year I wrote a "blistering" letter to your paper about conditions at the South Sterling street dump, and now I feel compelled to turnabout and say "Congratulations" to the city administration.

Within the past few weeks, I have watched with a feeling of intense surprise each time a city truck would pull up with a load of clean fill and deposit it on top of the dump. Neat little piles sprang up all over, and then it was levelled off. Now it is beginning to look like a "garden spot," and I, for one, want to say "Thanks."

Sincerely,
JULIA R. LANE
(Mrs. Sidney Lane)

P. S. Thank you, too, Mr. Editor, if you have space for printing my note of appreciation.

ting to Mexico and getting settled.

Broady next testified to a transaction whereby $20,000 more found its way from Roberts' special account with Morris Cohon to the account of Roberts & McGinnis in the National Metropolitan Bank of Washington. Next he presented photostatic copies of checks representing $15,000 apparently paid to Kisich inasmuch as his endorsement appeared. Then he handed the committee a photostatic copy of a check for $29,000 from Morris Cohon to William Roberts, endorsed "William Roberts, Roberts & McGinnis."

Broady said: "That check shows that out of the total of $100,000 received by Roberts from the redemption of this $100,000 U. S. Treasury bill purchased with funds embezzled by Roberts' client, Mow, after Roberts commenced to represent Mow, $75,000 went into the till of Roberts & McGinnis and $25,000 went to Kisich."

Why We Say--

. . . Homeless person

Someone who has no definite place to live may be desparagingly referred to as a "bum." The word comes from the Old English "bum," to drink, and also from German "Bummer," a worthless loafer. The slang term started in San Francisco after the Gold Rush when many disappointed prospectors took to drink and an itinerant life.

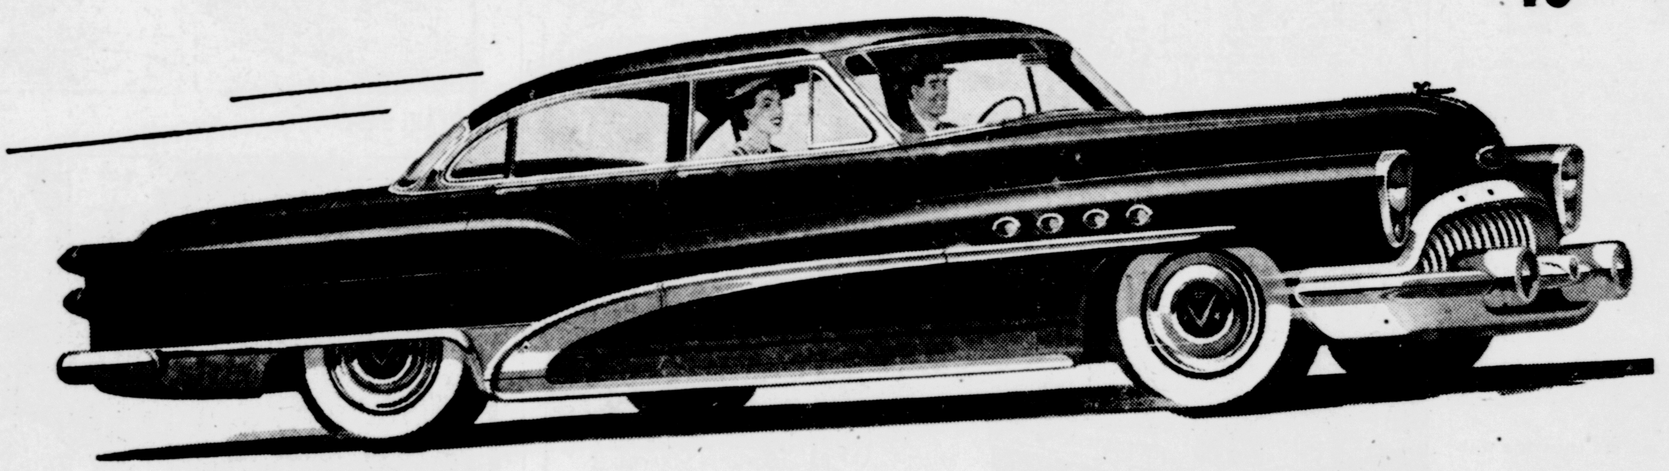
EVEN THE MUFFLER DOES THINGS TO THE POWER

World's newest V8



BACK in the old days, any man who wanted real performance used a "cut-out" on his car.

It was a device that by-passed the muffler—because mufflers have always cut down on usable power. But it made a lot of noise.

Muffling that noise—and still getting rid of exhaust gases as fast as they come from the cylinders—has stumped the automobile people for years.

Now, Buick engineers have racked up another "first."

They have come up with a muffler of supreme quiet and zero power loss—first time in history.

It is called a dynamic flow muffler. And it is one of many advances that make the great 1953 Buick ROADMASTER even greater.

For this automobile—the greatest Buick in fifty great years—has a brilliant new V8 Engine that can turn up 188 hp. And every one of its horsepowers can be delivered as usable power—since none is restricted in muffler passage.

As you would expect, there is more to this magnificent motorcar than power, great though it is.

There's a still finer ride, better maneuverability, easier handling—now with Power Steering as standard equipment, and Power Brakes optional at extra cost.

ROADMASTER
CUSTOM BUILT BY BUICK

And there's the amazing new Twin-Turbine Dynaflow bringing quieter, jet-fast getaway to complete and utter smoothness.

Why not come in and see for yourself just how great the greatest Buick in half a century really is?

500 Gift Bags Are Given to Inductees

Approximately 500 "travalets" have been distributed to inductees leaving this area by the Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary, it was reported today by Mrs. Ralph Scism, president.

Mrs. Scism said that the ladies from Joyce-Schirick Post, 1386, are enabled to give the gifts through the courtesy and generosity of patriotic and civic minded individuals and establishments.

Whenever a contingent leaves by bus from the central post office area, a delegation of VFW women are there to say goodby and hand each one a "travalet."

The "travalets," neat little zipper bags contain articles that come in handy to the boys in service.

Donors of the bags have been Fuller Skyline, Inc., the Ulster County Savings Institution and Kingston Savings Bank.

Articles have been furnished by Tommy Maines sporting goods store, cigarette cases; Kingston Buick, bottle openers; Jones Dairy, cigarette lighters; Valley Gardens, mechanical pencils.

Mrs. Scism said the auxiliary is grateful to the donors and suggested that others who might like to take a turn at giving articles for the servicemen write or contact the ladies at Joyce-Schirick Post on Delaware avenue.

Crossbills Visit Jersey

Montclair, N. J. (AP) — Bird watchers have observed at least 500 white-winged crossbills in this vicinity. The bird's normal home is Canada and Alaska and is rarely seen this far south. Since 1900 only 27 other authenticated cases of crossbill sightings have been recorded by the Audobon Society in the New York-New Jersey area. Mrs. Robert Arny, president of the Federated Naturalists of New Jersey, said attempts to band the birds will be made in hopes of tracing the crossbill's range. The crossbills normally are considered non-migratory.

GIs Dislike War Movies

Tokyo (AP)—So far as the U. S. fighting man over here is concerned, civilians can have Hollywood's war movies. Soldiers in the Far East—excluding Korea where no admission is charged and no attendance checks are made—prefer to spend their movie money on comedies, musicals and westerns, according to the Army's Recreation and Motion Picture staff at Yokohama. They said "Greatest Show on Earth," a circus spectacle starring Betty Hutton, took top 1952 popularity honors. War films ranked way down the line, they reported, with most criticism directed at "impossible acts of heroism," "impractical situations" and "unrealistic dialogue." Most popular stars were Gary Cooper, Martin and Lewis, Joan Crawford, Jane Wyman, Susan Hayward and Doris Day.

BABSON on BUSINESS

Babson Park, Florida, Feb. 20—Last week I discussed Korea and stated that the Chinese will get sick of it before this year ends. As we are already tired of the conflict, this means that 1953 will see a Korean peace with our boys coming home again.

For the above we all should be thankful; but the question arises as to how this will affect your job. Surely both the railroads and many industries are now profiting greatly by the Korean war. What will happen to them when our boys withdraw?

First let us realize that our boys cannot withdraw until the South Koreans are trained and equipped to take their places. This means that it may be 1954 before our boys get back. However, it may not reduce the number of new draftees. With only about 531,000 men in Korea, over 1,000,000 new recruits each year are needed to merely provide replacements in our total military forces.

An Analysis of the Situation

We must supply the South Korean armies with food, ammunition and clothing. We assume that our boys will give the South Koreans their guns and other equipment, including airplanes. Hence, by year end, as the South Koreans may be doing mostly only guard and practice work, the demand upon us will be materially cut down. Until a flare-up occurs in Indo-China, Malaya or somewhere else, the traffic of our western railroads will surely be much less.

Peace or war will make little difference to the maintenance expense of our navy or its men. Many of the ships now patrolling the coast of Korea will be sent to other waters; but their expenses will go on just the same. In a way, this also applies to our air force. We will lose fewer planes to be replaced, but they all must be kept in the air. Certain manufacturing concerns will have fewer orders; but those engaged in processing foods, supplying clothing, shelter and fuel should continue to give full employment. We must make it popular for South Koreans to serve in their army and replace the allied troops.

Cold War Preparations

Most of the industrial activity today is not due to the Korean conflict, but to preparing for World War 3. This will continue to give full employment for from six to twelve months more. Furthermore, the making of military supplies may become a new and permanent industry for some years ahead. If so, no efficient workers need suffer this year from an ending of the Korean war.

Some companies may be affected by President Eisenhower's determination to avoid overlapping military orders and reducing costs. This could mean smaller profits to some, which would make them reduce their labor forces and cause some unemployment in certain communities. But only the latest and least efficient employes need to be laid off.

Business Outlook

The above means that several railroads may be hurt by peace in the Pacific; but most industrial plants have nothing now to fear. The new administration will insist on lower costs and no rush work or overtime. This means that manufacturers and wageworkers must be more efficient.

Frankly, I feel that this will be a good thing all around. Our "riding high and handsome" the past few years was leading to a bad fall for us all. Now the new policy could give manufacturers and wageworkers an opportunity to adjust themselves gradually to the new conditions. I visualize slowly declining business, but not panicky. More advertising will be found to be the best cushion.

Nude Models Scarce

Singapore (AP)—A woman artist representing a group of painters laments the scarcity of nudes in Singapore which otherwise is a painter's paradise. "Most of the girls who would make good studies are too shy. Those who are willing to take off all their clothes want $5 an hour for their services which is too dear. It's a pity," she said, "because there are some beautiful subjects here."

500 Gift Bags Are Given to Inductees

Approximately 500 "travalets" have been distributed to inductees leaving this area by the Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary, it was reported today by Mrs. Ralph Scism, president.

Mrs. Scism said that the ladies from Joyce-Schirick Post, 1386, are enabled to give the gifts through the courtesy and generosity of patriotic and civic minded individuals and establishments.

Whenever a contingent leaves by bus from the central post office area, a delegation of VFW women are there to say goodby and hand each one a "travalet."

The "travalets," neat little zipper bags contain articles that come in handy to the boys in service.

Donors of the bags have been Fuller Skyline, Inc., the Ulster County Savings Institution and Kingston Savings Bank.

Articles have been furnished by Tommy Maines sporting goods store, cigarette cases; Kingston Buick, bottle openers; Jones Dairy, cigarette lighters; Valley Gardens, mechanical pencils.

Mrs. Scism said the auxiliary is grateful to the donors and suggested that others who might like to take a turn at giving articles for the servicemen write or contact the ladies at Joyce-Schirick Post on Delaware avenue.

Crossbills Visit Jersey

Montclair, N. J. (AP) — Bird watchers have observed at least 500 white-winged crossbills in this vicinity. The bird's normal home is Canada and Alaska and is rarely seen this far south. Since 1900 only 27 other authenticated cases of crossbill sightings have been recorded by the Audobon Society in the New York-New Jersey area. Mrs. Robert Arny, president of the Federated Naturalists of New Jersey, said attempts to band the birds will be made in hopes of tracing the crossbill's range. The crossbills normally are considered non-migratory.

Faulty Production Scored

Hong Kong (AP) — Communist speed-up and "emulation drives" have caused more bad goods to be produced in Red China, Peiping complains. The Chinese Red radio blasted Red factories and mines which "sought blindly to increase quantity in production, ignoring quality." The radio scolded: "not only has the amount of rejections and seconds increased, income has decreased and the reputation of the products has been seriously damaged.

GIs Dislike War Movies

Tokyo (AP)—So far as the U. S. fighting man over here is concerned, civilians can have Hollywood's war movies. Soldiers in the Far East—excluding Korea where no admission is charged and no attendance checks are made—prefer to spend their movie money on comedies, musicals and westerns, according to the Army's Recreation and Motion Picture staff at Yokohama. They said "Greatest Show on Earth," a circus spectacle starring Betty Hutton, took top 1952 popularity honors. War films ranked way down the line, they reported, with most criticism directed at "impossible acts of heroism," "impractical situations" and "unrealistic dialogue." Most popular stars were Gary Cooper, Martin and Lewis, Joan Crawford, Jane Wyman, Susan Hayward and Doris Day.

GOOD TASTE TODAY

By EMILY POST

(Author of Etiquette, 'Children Are People,' etc.)

ALMOST UNSOLVABLE

A very difficult situation is presented in this letter from a widow: "My husband died suddenly. After the funeral, his sister offered to stay with me for a few days so that I would not be alone. However, this visit has lengthened into a month and there doesn't seem to be any sign of her leaving. I am never left alone for a minute and I am getting very fed up with it as I want to be free to lead my own life. Will you please tell me what I can do about this very trying situation without seeming ungrateful and hurting her feelings?"

"You might explain that you appreciate her kindness in staying with you when you were first left alone. But that you consider it unfair to her not to be able to continue her own interests and friends that she relinquished when she came to stay with you, and say that you won't let her do it. Or perhaps it might be easier, if you have relatives, to close up your house, or apartment, and make the change by going to stay with them for awhile.

Obligation to Employer's Wife

Dear Mrs. Port: Several weeks ago I met the wife of my husband's employer at a large tea and cocktail party. She has now invited us to a dinner party at her house, and I would like to know what is the correct procedure? Do I bring a present, write a thank-you note after the dinner, or invite her to dinner at my house to repay my obligation?

Answer: You do not take a present and neither do you write a thank-you note. In short, nothing is expected of you—unless she should invite you several times and you become real friends when you would return her hospitality in what way you can.

Shower Invitations

Dear Mrs. Post: I would like to know if it would be considered proper to invite people to a shower who are not being invited to the wedding?

Answer: Definitely no!—unless the wedding is so small that none but the immediate families are included.

How shall I write a note of acceptance for an invitation? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail, but model notes for invitations and their acceptance, as well as other notes, are included in leaflet E-21. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to her, c/o The Kingston Daily Freeman, P.O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

GOOD TASTE TODAY

By EMILY POST

(Author of Etiquette, 'Children Are People,' etc.)

ALMOST UNSOLVABLE

A very difficult situation is presented in this letter from a widow: "My husband died suddenly. After the funeral, his sister offered to stay with me for a few days so that I would not be alone. However, this visit has lengthened into a month and there doesn't seem to be any sign of her leaving. I am never left alone for a minute and I am getting very fed up with it as I want to be free to lead my own life. Will you please tell me what I can do about this very trying situation without seeming ungrateful and hurting her feelings?"

"You might explain that you appreciate her kindness in staying with you when you were first left alone. But that you consider it unfair to her not to be able to continue her own interests and friends that she relinquished when she came to stay with you, and say that you won't let her do it. Or perhaps it might be easier, if you have relatives, to close up your house, or apartment, and make the change by going to stay with them for awhile.

Obligation to Employer's Wife

Dear Mrs. Post: Several weeks ago I met the wife of my husband's employer at a large tea and cocktail party. She has now invited us to a dinner party at her house, and I would like to know what is the correct procedure? Do I bring a present, write a thank-you note after the dinner, or invite her to dinner at my house to repay my obligation?

Answer: You do not take a present and neither do you write a thank-you note. In short, nothing is expected of you—unless she should invite you several times and you become real friends when you would return her hospitality in what way you can.

Shower Invitations

Dear Mrs. Post: I would like to know if it would be considered proper to invite people to a shower who are not being invited to the wedding?

Answer: Definitely no!—unless the wedding is so small that none but the immediate families are included.

How shall I write a note of acceptance for an invitation? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail, but model notes for invitations and their acceptance, as well as other notes, are included in leaflet E-21. To obtain a copy send 10 cents in coin to her, c/o The Kingston Daily Freeman, P.O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Kiwanis Hears of Scouting Program

Since the inception of Scouting in this country in 1910, more than 14½ million men have passed through its ranks, George V. Dennis, scout executive, said in an address to the Kingston Kiwanis Club at the Governor Clinton Hotel on Thursday.

Dennis spoke on the activities of the Rip Van Winkle Boy Scout Council at a program dedicated to the Scout's 43rd birthday. George Matthews was program chairman for the day.

Other guests were Eagle Scout Richard Constant, who explained the programs and facilities at Camp Tri-Mount, the council's summer camp, and Peter Kelderhouse, who is one of the local Scouts registered to attend the Jamboree in California next July, and who told the group of his expectations at that event.

Both boys stressed the value of the associations and friendships obtained from Scouting.

Jack Feye, chairman of the Kingston-Holland Flood Relief Committee, also addressed the club, expressing his committee's thanks to the club for its assistance in the recent drive.

Rosenberg Juror Refuses Signature To Clemency Plea

New York, Feb. 20 (AP)—A juror in the case of the Rosenbergs—sentenced to death as convicted atom spies—has refused to sign a clemency petition in their behalf.

Emanuel H. Bloch, attorney for Ethel and Julius Rosenberg, said last night three members of the husband's family recently went to see the juror, whose name was not disclosed.

The three Rosenbergs who approached the juror were Julius' mother, Sophie; sister, Ethel, and brother David. They were rebuffed, Bloch added.

Saw 'Nothing Wrong'

The attorney said he saw "nothing wrong" with discussing the sentence with jurors so long as the petitioners avoided arguing merits of the case itself.

The jury found the Rosenbergs guilty in 1951 of conspiring to transmit atomic secrets to Russia. Federal Judge Irving R. Kaufman sentenced the pair to death.

The Rosenbergs appealed up to the U. S. Supreme Court and were turned down all along the legal line. On Feb. 11, President Eisenhower refused to grant clemency.

Various appeals have stayed their execution date. Slated recently to die in the electric chair next month, they have been granted another stay pending a U. S. Supreme Court decision on whether to review their case.

Correspondence Compiled

It was reported from Sing Sing Prison at Ossining, yesterday that the condemned couple are compiling correspondence between themselves and persons outside the prison with the idea of publishing such memoranda in book form.

It was not disclosed whether such a publication would be written by the Rosenbergs or by someone in their names.

Dog Rescues Baby From Burning Home

Mendon, Mass., Feb. 20 (AP)—A German shepherd dog pulled a baby girl from a burning house last night before anyone else was aware the house was afire.

Mrs. James Stimson said she let the dog into the house after he barked furiously to have the door opened. She said he ran directly to a play pen and hauled 9-months-old Billie Jean to the yard.

Mrs. Stimson said that not until then did she realize another part of the house was afire. She gathered her other two children and fled herself.

Damage was estimated unofficially at $5,000.

Witko Will Have Charge of Cubs

Edward Witko, physical education instructor at the Onteora School, will be the cubmaster of the new Cub Pack now being organized at the school under the direction of Frank Teel, field director of the Rip Van Winkle Council, Boy Scouts of America.

In announcing the appointment of Cubmaster Witko, the local Boy Scout field director also revealed that Mrs. Donald Bishop of West Shokan and Mrs. Raymond Wheeler of Mt. Tremper would be den mothers for the new Pack, and Rudolph Frank of Shandaken would serve on the Pack committee.

Two dens of boys between the ages of 8 and 11 years will begin operations in West Shokan and Mt. Tremper immediately, with a potential of additional dens being formed when organization of the Pack is completed.

Director Teel stressed again the need for parent-cooperation and requested that all parents interested in the formation of the new Cub Pack meet at the Onteora School building on Wednesday evening, February 25, for the final organizational meeting.

Kiwanis Hears of Scouting Program

Since the inception of Scouting in this country in 1910, more than 14½ million men have passed through its ranks, George V. Dennis, scout executive, said in an address to the Kingston Kiwanis Club at the Governor Clinton Hotel on Thursday.

Dennis spoke on the activities of the Rip Van Winkle Boy Scout Council at a program dedicated to the Scout's 43rd birthday. George Matthews was program chairman for the day.

Other guests were Eagle Scout Richard Constant, who explained the programs and facilities at Camp Tri-Mount, the council's summer camp, and Peter Kelderhouse, who is one of the local Scouts registered to attend the Jamboree in California next July, and who told the group of his expectations at that event.

Both boys stressed the value of the associations and friendships obtained from Scouting.

Jack Feye, chairman of the Kingston-Holland Flood Relief Committee, also addressed the club, expressing his committee's thanks to the club for its assistance in the recent drive.

Rosenberg Juror Refuses Signature To Clemency Plea

New York, Feb. 20 (AP)—A juror in the case of the Rosenbergs—sentenced to death as convicted atom spies—has refused to sign a clemency petition in their behalf.

Emanuel H. Bloch, attorney for Ethel and Julius Rosenberg, said last night three members of the husband's family recently went to see the juror, whose name was not disclosed.

The three Rosenbergs who approached the juror were Julius' mother, Sophie; sister, Ethel, and brother David. They were rebuffed, Bloch added.

Saw 'Nothing Wrong'

The attorney said he saw "nothing wrong" with discussing the sentence with jurors so long as the petitioners avoided arguing merits of the case itself.

The jury found the Rosenbergs guilty in 1951 of conspiring to transmit atomic secrets to Russia. Federal Judge Irving R. Kaufman sentenced the pair to death.

The Rosenbergs appealed up to the U. S. Supreme Court and were turned down all along the legal line. On Feb. 11, President Eisenhower refused to grant clemency.

Various appeals have stayed their execution date. Slated recently to die in the electric chair next month, they have been granted another stay pending a U. S. Supreme Court decision on whether to review their case.

Correspondence Compiled

It was reported from Sing Sing Prison at Ossining, yesterday that the condemned couple are compiling correspondence between themselves and persons outside the prison with the idea of publishing such memoranda in book form.

It was not disclosed whether such a publication would be written by the Rosenbergs or by someone in their names.

Dog Rescues Baby From Burning Home

Mendon, Mass., Feb. 20 (AP)—A German shepherd dog pulled a baby girl from a burning house last night before anyone else was aware the house was afire.

Mrs. James Stimson said she let the dog into the house after he barked furiously to have the door opened. She said he ran directly to a play pen and hauled 9-months-old Billie Jean to the yard.

Mrs. Stimson said that not until then did she realize another part of the house was afire. She gathered her other two children and fled herself.

Damage was estimated unofficially at $5,000.

Witko Will Have Charge of Cubs

Edward Witko, physical education instructor at the Onteora School, will be the cubmaster of the new Cub Pack now being organized at the school under the direction of Frank Teel, field director of the Rip Van Winkle Council, Boy Scouts of America.

In announcing the appointment of Cubmaster Witko, the local Boy Scout field director also revealed that Mrs. Donald Bishop of West Shokan and Mrs. Raymond Wheeler of Mt. Tremper would be den mothers for the new Pack, and Rudolph Frank of Shandaken would serve on the Pack committee.

Two dens of boys between the ages of 8 and 11 years will begin operations in West Shokan and Mt. Tremper immediately, with a potential of additional dens being formed when organization of the Pack is completed.

Director Teel stressed again the need for parent-cooperation and requested that all parents interested in the formation of the new Cub Pack meet at the Onteora School building on Wednesday evening, February 25, for the final organizational meeting.

Unless every dopester has it figured all wrong and that doesn't seem to be the idea at this stage of the race, tonight will be clincher night for Newburgh Free Academy's unbeaten basketeers.

While Kingston High School travels to Port Jervis just to complete the 1952-53 schedule by another game, Newburgh has a date with destiny at its home boards in the Hilly City with the weak-sister of the DUSO League, Liberty High.

The fourth straight DUSO League pennant is at stake in Newburgh tonight as the Academy cagers go after their 37th straight victory of the year (15th for the present campaign) and it is very, very doubtful if even the most rabid Liberty fan sees anything but an NFA win and the pennant clincher.

Fouls Clinch Contest

Newburgh hobbled through to its 36th straight triumph Tuesday night thanks to some pretty nifty foul shooting that resulted in the Goldbacks making eight out of 10 in the closing 95 seconds of their game with lowly Ellenville. NFA won the game by 68 to 62.

Tuesday's victory clinched a mathematical tie for the league championship as Kingston, the present runnerup, dropped its fourth decision of the year, an 81 to 70 defeat at the hands of Poughkeepsie.

Right now the local Maroons have their backs to the wall in an effort to hold onto their second place standing. Their slim lead has dipped to a mere half game over the Fallsburgh Comets who travel to Monticello tonight.

Kingston fell by the wayside Tuesday night in dropping the 81-70 decision to Poughkeepsie. For awhile the Maroons looked hot but suddenly fizzled and away went the hopes for a victory.

Port Jervis, although away down the list with only four victories in 13 starts, can't be taken too lightly.

The All-America Way

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By AL McCLANE
(Fishing Editor)

The Oregon State Game Commission announced recently that fishermen took about 183,000 salmon and steelhead in a one-year stint on local waters.

The state reported: "One of the most revealing items in the studies was that many of the anglers caught nothing, but the experts made catches with apparent ease to the effect that a lot of fish were taken only by a few anglers."

I shouldn't think the Oregon boys would be surprised at that. Michigan's Pigeon River experiment, which has run over a period of three or four years, proved beyond doubt that fish were caught in direct proportion to the angler's skill.

In fact, it has been demonstrated in numerous tests that anglers rarely get the maximum yield out of a fish population, as the average man just doesn't have the talent.

Here's a letter from John Stevens of Portland, Ore., which probably needs an airing.

"Much of my fishing is done on the Deschutes River, which is a fairly large stream. Also the majority of my fish are taken on wet flies. It seems to me, in spite of what I have read, that the ability to cast 75 or 80 feet would be worth far more to me than developing my accuracy to the point where I can drop a fly into a tea cup at 30 feet. What is your opinion"?

I am inclined to think that the writers who stress the importance of accuracy over distance overlook fishing conditions in some sections of the country, particularly in the west, where the streams are much bigger and rougher than they are in the east. Admittedly in dry-fly fishing accuracy and delicacy are highly imporant. In wet fly fishing, however, particularly in many of the large western rivers for trout and steelhead, I am inclined to think that distance is far more necessary if one hopes to catch fish.

If you can handle a dry fly reasonably well at distances of 30 or 40 feet now, I would forget the accuracy and delicacy end of it for the time being and concentrate on developing distance.

If you are not using one at present, securing a good fly line, with the weight in the forward portion will be a great aid to you in getting extra distance. Learn the line-hand double pull and learn how to handle a lot of running line in your left hand when you are in water waist deep.

You will find that being able to cast from 75 to 90 feet will be a great assistance to you in fishing large streams such as the Deschutes, Rogue, Umpqua, and many other Oregon rivers.

Build Up Your Bowling By
Knockin' 'Em Down
With STEVE NAGY, Bowler of the Year

By STEVE NAGY
Bowler-of-the-Year

One afternoon I walked into a bowling alley and began to watch the different styles of the various bowlers. One fellow, I noticed, had very good form. But his score didn't reflect that form.

I saw him take his stance with his left foot in the exact center of the approach. He moved forward and released his ball and it rolled right into the pocket for a strike.

"Pretty good," I said to myself.

On the next ball, however, I noticed he took his stance with his left foot a few boards to the right of the center of the approach before moving up and releasing his ball at the foul line.

The ball rolled down, had the same amount of hook on it, but it came in directly on the nose of the headpin, leaving a wide-open split.

Winners Favored To Enter Finals; Kogan Scores 17

Shaw's Grocery and St. Peter's are one up in their post-season Shaughnessy playoffs in the Junior Division of the Recreation league.

Shaws defeated the regular season champions Esposito Cleaners 51 to 30 Wednesday night while St. Peter's turned back the Waterboys by 46 to 39.

The second games of the best out of three series will be held next Wednesday night at the George Washington School.

Favored in Series

A victory for Shaws and St. Peter's will send these two clubs into the finals. Considering this week's showing both Shaws and St. Peter's are favored to enter the finals.

Shaws and Espositos played a close first quarter of their game with Shaws on top by two points going into the second canto.

It was in the second quarter when the outcome of the contest was decided as Shaws scored 18 points while Espositos were held to three. Ater that, the game was never close.

Lionel Kogan was high man for Shaws with 17 points. Jerry Parks followed with 11. Jim Fiore topped Espositos with eight.

The St. Peter's-Waterboys fray was close all the way with the Saints holding a slim two or three point lead.

Fouls Decide Game

The Saints actually won the series opener from the charity stripe, hitting 16 out of 18 attempts.

Frank Turck and Rich Dempsey tied for scoring honors for the Saints with 12 points. They each hit four times from the foul line and four from the field. Jack Redmond of the Waterboys was high man of the game with 14 markers. Dick Amato had 11 for the losers.

Meyer Sees Flag for Flock; Other Hurlers Optimistic

(By The Associated Press)

Major league hurlers will get down to serious spring training business in a couple of days but so far the pitch is the usual "I'm gonna have a great year."

Russ Meyer, acquired by the Brooklyn Dodgers in a four-club, five player transaction earlier this week, reported to the Brooks' camp at Vero Beach, Fla., yesterday and promptly predicted he'd help the Dodgers gain their second straight National League pennant.

"If I pitch the type of ball I did last season," he said after signing his 1953 contract, "I have a good chance of winning 20 games."

Porterfield Confident

Russ posted a mediocre 13-14 slate in 1952 with the Philadelphia Phillies but his record was dipped in hard luck. He lost six times by one run. In three of his other games the Phillies were blanked.

Washington's Bob Porterfield, another tough luck moundsman, declared at Orlando, Fla., "I'm going to come up with a really big year and kill the idea that I'm jinxed."

The 28-year-old pitcher has been the victim of a broken finger, a line drive which creased his skull and another liner which hit his leg and kept him out of action a month.

At Tampa, Detroit Manager Freddie Hutchinson said the Tigers' pitching staff will be the best in the American League this season. The Bengals finished in the cellar in 1952.

Art Houtteman, Ned Garver, Ted Gray, Hal Newhouser, Bill Wight and Young Bill Hoeft form the nucleus of the Tiger mound corps.

"Show me another club that is as deep in pitching as we are," Hutchinson said, no one answered.

Giants Like New Hurlers

Optimism also was the order of the day at the quarters of the New York Giants at Phoenix, Ariz. In the absence of President Horace Stoneham and Manager Leo Durocher, Promotional Director Garry Schumacher had nothing but kind words for Frank Hiller and Ruben Gomez, two new hurling acquisitions. Hiller was obtained from Cincinnati during the winter and Gomez, a Puerto Rican winter league sensation, was signed last month.

Manager Jimmy Dykes of the Philadelphia Athletics was wrestling with another type of pitching problem at West Palm Beach. Dykes intends to carry 11 flingers during the campaign, which means he must whittle seven off the list of 18. Bobby Schantz, for one, is sure of a job, he said. That probably is the No. 1 understatement of the year.

The hurlers weren't the only players in the news.

Hemus Faces Job

Cardinal shortstop Solly Hemus, who batted .268 and hit 15 homers in 1952, may have to hustle to keep his job, Manager Eddie Stanky indicated.

"Only Red Schoendienst (second baseman) is sure of an infield spot," Stanky said, later mentioning Walt Lammers, up from Columbus, as possible competition for Hemus.

Tennis

New York—Art Larsen of San Leandro, Calif., defeated Ricardo Balbiers, 6-1 and 6-3 while Kurt Nielsen of Denmark whipped Charles Masterson of Brooklyn, N. Y., 6-4, 6-4 as they led the way into the quarter-final round of the National Indoor Championship.

Classrooms Might Bar St. Louis Five From Entering NIT Action

New York, Feb. 20 (AP)—The National Invitation Basketball Tournament, which lost greatly desired Seattle to the NCAA, may lose equally sought after St. Louis to the classrooms.

St. Louis, tremendously popular with the New York fans, virtually wrote its own invitation to the NIT last night by swamping New York University, 98-78, at Madison Square Garden. But St. Louis Coach Eddie Hickey said he was doubtful that a bid could be accepted.

"We've missed an awful lot of school on this road trip," Hickey said. The team has been away from St. Louis since last Friday and won't get home until Sunday.

"It will be up to the university authorities," the coach continued, "and they may think another trip back here would be too much."

The NIT, which opens March 7, has corralled four of its needed dozen teams—unbeaten Seton Hall, ranked No. 1 nationally in the Associated Press poll; fourth-ranking La Salle; ninth-ranking Western Kentucky and Manhattan College of New York, No. 13 in the poll.

Manhattan came in yesterday just after Seattle, which had received an invitation, cast its lot with the NCAA. Seattle is hoping for a chance to play the University of Washington in the Western NCAA Regional Tournament, but it will have to get by a first round game with Idaho State to stay in the running.

St. Louis is unranked nationally and has only a 13-9 record.

The NIT has been averaging one entry a day since it announced La Salle on Monday. Teams still under consideration are understood to include Duquesne, DePaul, Louisville, Oklahoma City, Holy Cross, Eastern Kentucky, Niagara and St. John's of Brooklyn.

St. John's made a strong bid for recognition in the first half of last night's Garden doubleheader by whipping Niagara, 64-60, in one of its best local showing of the season.

The fourth straight DUSO League pennant is at stake in Newburgh tonight as the Academy cagers go after their 37th straight victory of the year (15th for the present campaign) and it is very, very doubtful if even the most rabid Liberty fan sees anything but an NFA win and the pennant clincher.

Fouls Clinch Contest

Newburgh hobbled through to its 36th straight triumph Tuesday night thanks to some pretty nifty foul shooting that resulted in the Goldbacks making eight out of 10 in the closing 95 seconds of their game with lowly Ellenville. NFA won the game by 68 to 62.

Tuesday's victory clinched a mathematical tie for the league championship as Kingston, the present runnerup, dropped its fourth decision of the year, an 81 to 70 defeat at the hands of Poughkeepsie.

Right now the local Maroons have their backs to the wall in an effort to hold onto their second place standing. Their slim lead has dipped to a mere half game over the Fallsburgh Comets who travel to Monticello tonight.

Kingston fell by the wayside Tuesday night in dropping the 81-70 decision to Poughkeepsie. For awhile the Maroons looked hot but suddenly fizzled and away went the hopes for a victory.

Port Jervis, although away down the list with only four victories in 13 starts, can't be taken too lightly.

Kingston		Port Jervis
Brodhead	LF	Beams
Telepas	RF	Harford
Bezemer	C	Rinkavage
DuBois	LG	Barbarino
Haber	RG	Cronk

Shaws, St. Peter's Cop Junior Rec Playoff Games

Winners Favored To Enter Finals; Kogan Scores 17

Shaw's Grocery and St. Peter's are one up in their post-season Shaughnessy playoffs in the Junior Division of the Recreation league.

Shaws defeated the regular season champions Esposito Cleaners 51 to 30 Wednesday night while St. Peter's turned back the Waterboys by 46 to 39.

The second games of the best out of three series will be held next Wednesday night at the George Washington School.

Favored in Series

A victory for Shaws and St. Peter's will send these two clubs into the finals. Considering this week's showing both Shaws and St. Peter's are favored to enter the finals.

Shaws and Espositos played a close first quarter of their game with Shaws on top by two points going into the second canto.

It was in the second quarter when the outcome of the contest was decided as Shaws scored 18 points while Espositos were held to three. Ater that, the game was never close.

Lionel Kogan was high man for Shaws with 17 points. Jerry Parks followed with 11. Jim Fiore topped Espositos with eight.

The St. Peter's-Waterboys fray was close all the way with the Saints holding a slim two or three point lead.

Fouls Decide Game

The Saints actually won the series opener from the charity stripe, hitting 16 out of 18 attempts.

Frank Turck and Rich Dempsey tied for scoring honors for the Saints with 12 points. They each hit four times from the foul line and four from the field. Jack Redmond of the Waterboys was high man of the game with 14 markers. Dick Amato had 11 for the losers.

Meyer Sees Flag for Flock; Other Hurlers Optimistic

(By The Associated Press)

Major league hurlers will get down to serious spring training business in a couple of days but so far the pitch is the usual "I'm gonna have a great year."

Russ Meyer, acquired by the Brooklyn Dodgers in a four-club, five player transaction earlier this week, reported to the Brooks' camp at Vero Beach, Fla., yesterday and promptly predicted he'd help the Dodgers gain their second straight National League pennant.

"If I pitch the type of ball I did last season," he said after signing his 1953 contract, "I have a good chance of winning 20 games."

Porterfield Confident

Russ posted a mediocre 13-14 slate in 1952 with the Philadelphia Phillies but his record was dipped in hard luck. He lost six times by one run. In three of his other games the Phillies were blanked.

Washington's Bob Porterfield, another tough luck moundsman, declared at Orlando, Fla., "I'm going to come up with a really big year and kill the idea that I'm jinxed."

The 28-year-old pitcher has been the victim of a broken finger, a line drive which creased his skull and another liner which hit his leg and kept him out of action a month.

At Tampa, Detroit Manager Freddie Hutchinson said the Tigers' pitching staff will be the best in the American League this season. The Bengals finished in the cellar in 1952.

Art Houtteman, Ned Garver, Ted Gray, Hal Newhouser, Bill Wight and Young Bill Hoeft form the nucleus of the Tiger mound corps.

"Show me another club that is as deep in pitching as we are," Hutchinson said, no one answered.

Giants Like New Hurlers

Optimism also was the order of the day at the quarters of the New York Giants at Phoenix, Ariz. In the absence of President Horace Stoneham and Manager Leo Durocher, Promotional Director Garry Schumacher had nothing but kind words for Frank Hiller and Ruben Gomez, two new hurling acquisitions. Hiller was obtained from Cincinnati during the winter and Gomez, a Puerto Rican winter league sensation, was signed last month.

Manager Jimmy Dykes of the Philadelphia Athletics was wrestling with another type of pitching problem at West Palm Beach. Dykes intends to carry 11 flingers during the campaign, which means he must whittle seven off the list of 18. Bobby Schantz, for one, is sure of a job, he said. That probably is the No. 1 understatement of the year.

The hurlers weren't the only players in the news.

Hemus Faces Job

Cardinal shortstop Solly Hemus, who batted .268 and hit 15 homers in 1952, may have to hustle to keep his job, Manager Eddie Stanky indicated.

"Only Red Schoendienst (second baseman) is sure of an infield spot," Stanky said, later mentioning Walt Lammers, up from Columbus, as possible competition for Hemus.

Tennis

New York—Art Larsen of San Leandro, Calif., defeated Ricardo Balbiers, 6-1 and 6-3 while Kurt Nielsen of Denmark whipped Charles Masterson of Brooklyn, N. Y., 6-4, 6-4 as they led the way into the quarter-final round of the National Indoor Championship.

Classrooms Might Bar St. Louis Five From Entering NIT Action

New York, Feb. 20 (AP)—The National Invitation Basketball Tournament, which lost greatly desired Seattle to the NCAA, may lose equally sought after St. Louis to the classrooms.

St. Louis, tremendously popular with the New York fans, virtually wrote its own invitation to the NIT last night by swamping New York University, 98-78, at Madison Square Garden. But St. Louis Coach Eddie Hickey said he was doubtful that a bid could be accepted.

"We've missed an awful lot of school on this road trip," Hickey said. The team has been away from St. Louis since last Friday and won't get home until Sunday.

"It will be up to the university authorities," the coach continued, "and they may think another trip back here would be too much."

The NIT, which opens March 7, has corralled four of its needed dozen teams—unbeaten Seton Hall, ranked No. 1 nationally in the Associated Press poll; fourth-ranking La Salle; ninth-ranking Western Kentucky and Manhattan College of New York, No. 13 in the poll.

Manhattan came in yesterday just after Seattle, which had received an invitation, cast its lot with the NCAA. Seattle is hoping for a chance to play the University of Washington in the Western NCAA Regional Tournament, but it will have to get by a first round game with Idaho State to stay in the running.

St. Louis is unranked nationally and has only a 13-9 record.

The NIT has been averaging one entry a day since it announced La Salle on Monday. Teams still under consideration are understood to include Duquesne, DePaul, Louisville, Oklahoma City, Holy Cross, Eastern Kentucky, Niagara and St. John's of Brooklyn.

St. John's made a strong bid for recognition in the first half of last night's Garden doubleheader by whipping Niagara, 64-60, in one of its best local showing of the season.

The All-America Way

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By AL McCLANE
(Fishing Editor)

The Oregon State Game Commission announced recently that fishermen took about 183,000 salmon and steelhead in a one-year stint on local waters.

The state reported: "One of the most revealing items in the studies was that many of the anglers caught nothing, but the experts made catches with apparent ease to the effect that a lot of fish were taken only by a few anglers."

I shouldn't think the Oregon boys would be surprised at that. Michigan's Pigeon River experiment, which has run over a period of three or four years, proved beyond doubt that fish were caught in direct proportion to the angler's skill.

In fact, it has been demonstrated in numerous tests that anglers rarely get the maximum yield out of a fish population, as the average man just doesn't have the talent.

Here's a letter from John Stevens of Portland, Ore., which probably needs an airing.

"Much of my fishing is done on the Deschutes River, which is a fairly large stream. Also the majority of my fish are taken on wet flies. It seems to me, in spite of what I have read, that the ability to cast 75 or 80 feet would be worth far more to me than developing my accuracy to the point where I can drop a fly into a tea cup at 30 feet. What is your opinion"?

I am inclined to think that the writers who stress the importance of accuracy over distance overlook fishing conditions in some sections of the country, particularly in the west, where the streams are much bigger and rougher than they are in the east. Admittedly in dry-fly fishing accuracy and delicacy are highly imporant. In wet fly fishing, however, particularly in many of the large western rivers for trout and steelhead, I am inclined to think that distance is far more necessary if one hopes to catch fish.

If you can handle a dry fly reasonably well at distances of 30 or 40 feet now, I would forget the accuracy and delicacy end of it for the time being and concentrate on developing distance.

If you are not using one at present, securing a good fly line, with the weight in the forward portion will be a great aid to you in getting extra distance. Learn the line-hand double pull and learn how to handle a lot of running line in your left hand when you are in water waist deep.

You will find that being able to cast from 75 to 90 feet will be a great assistance to you in fishing large streams such as the Deschutes, Rogue, Umpqua, and many other Oregon rivers.

Build Up Your Bowling By Knockin' 'Em Down

With STEVE NAGY, Bowler of the Year

By STEVE NAGY
Bowler-of-the-Year

One afternoon I walked into a bowling alley and began to watch the different styles of the various bowlers. One fellow, I noticed, had very good form. But his score didn't reflect that form.

I saw him take his stance with his left foot in the exact center of the approach. He moved forward and released his ball and it rolled right into the pocket for a strike.

"Pretty good," I said to myself.

On the next ball, however, I noticed he took his stance with his left foot a few boards to the right of the center of the approach before moving up and releasing his ball at the foul line.

The ball rolled down, had the same amount of hook on it, but it came in directly on the nose of the headpin, leaving a wide-open split.

The bowler remarked that he couldn't understand why his second ball hadn't been a strike, too.

Actually, his fault is a common one which many bowlers develop and which few correct.

Ferraro Blasts 277-724 to Lead Bowlodrome Major League

'Ace' Also Fires 235-213 Games In Heavy Session

Johnny Ferraro led a merry session of pocket-busting in the Ferraro Major League at the Bowlodrome Friday night with a gaudy 277 singleton and a 724 triple.

Ferraro's 724 series was the second straight "700" by the "Ace." He powered Miron Lumber to three straight wins in the Hudson Valley Bowling League last weekend with a 711 blast.

The old maestro opened last night's heavy scoring session with a 235 single, fired his hefty 277 in his middle effort and came back with 212 to complete his hat trick score of 724.

A half dozen 600 scores also were compiled during last night's hectic tenpin action.

Others hitting the charmed "600" circle included Angie Ferraro with 221-227-622; George "Curly" Flemings 237-612; Eugene Vogel 225-603; and Frank "Tarz" Spada 204-600.

Larry Petersen, Jr., missed the 600 group by three pins as he leveled 597 and a 215 singleton. George Shufeldt followed with 200-203-591 while Cliff Davis hammered the pot-bellied maples for 226-200-590.

Hymes Hold Lead

Hymes Shoe still holds a three-game bulge over Elstons while dropping two games to Rafalowskys last night. Elstons, meanwhile, took the measure of the Excavators in three games while shooting 1019 and 2858. Jones Dairy exploded for high triple and single game of the night with 2956 and 1066 while sweeping three from Jay's Shoe Store.

Team results:

Jones Dairy 3, Jay's Shoe Store 0; Garraghan Oil 2, Van's Gas 1; Elstons 3, Economy Excavators 0; Mannie's Barbers 3, Gallop's Jewelers 0; Kaye's Sportwair 2, Hamburger Paradise 1; Rafalowsky's 2, Hymes Shoe 1; Saccoman's 2, United Pharmacy 1.

Lowe Paces Electrol

Johnny Lowe's string of 197-188-180 for 565 was the top effort in the Electrol Night shift Thursday afternoon. Mike Milano, the league secretary, posted 523; G. Dodd 519; G. McKeon 500; H. Brooks 201-499; J. Brooks 491; J. Aiello 487; J. Nau 486; Palmer Brodhead 481; J. Brady 218-480; George Barringer 480 and Bob Emerick 480.

Team results:

Clarence Herdman clicked for games of 196-178-187 to lead the Hercules wheel at the Bowlodrome Thursday with his 561 series. Ten pins behind came Vince Clearwater with 220-551; Joe Dulin 231-522; Ed Smedes 499; G. Bilyou 480; Jim Emmick 475; Chauncey Elliott 470; Joe Fautz 464; J. Kennedy 460 and F. Bourke 455.

Team results:

Powder Line 2, Blasting Caps 1; Maintenance 2, Bob's Diner 1; B & F 2, Short Periods 1.

Percy Slover's 586 blast on the YMCA drives featured this week's schedule of the Federation American League. Slover fired scores of 192-191-203 for his high score.

Also of note were Austin Hitchcock with 200-519; Jim Raymond 502; Dutch Engle 502; Harold Pine 501; Lou Bruhn 497; J. Peterson 495; Craig Plough 495; J. Wolfersteig 494 and L. Brown 491.

Elizabeth Schoonmaker picked up momentum in the Chalet Pioneer Women's League this week to grab top honors.

Livia Tenedini rolled 467; Emma Pratt 455; Kathleen Houska 444; Dolores Joyce 436; Mildred Burger 422 and Mabel Cudney 421.

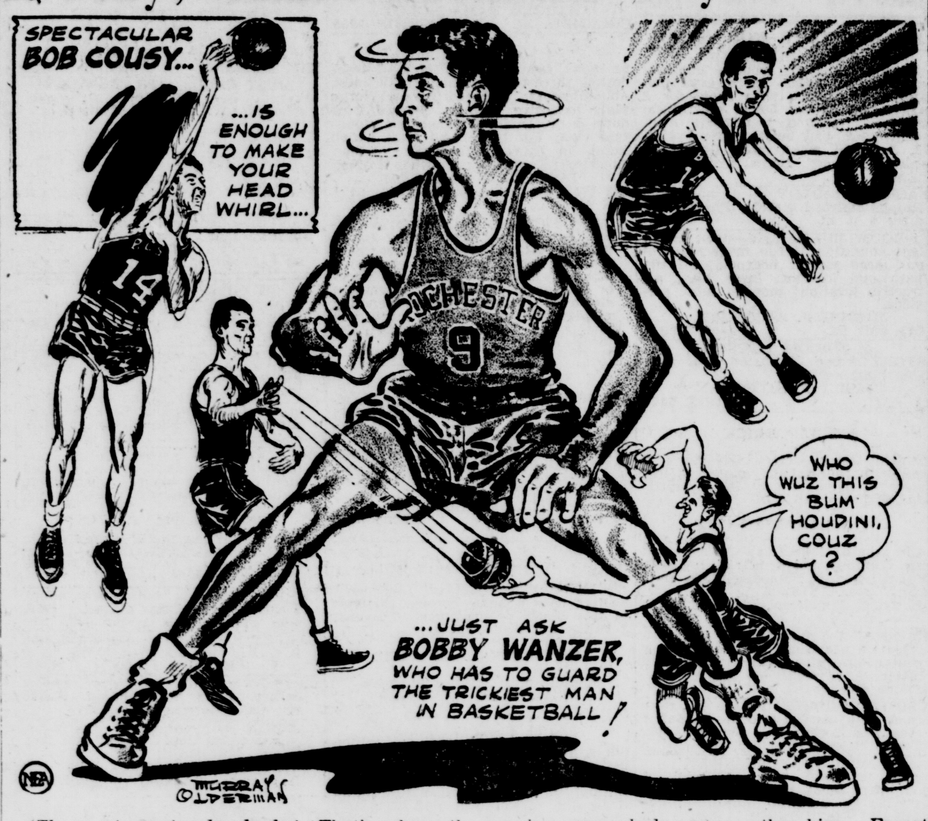
About All Man Can Do Against Bob Cousy Is Pray, Admits Rochester Royals' Star



(The most spectacular basketball player in the world today is Bob Cousy of the professional Boston Celtics. In this exclusive story written for NEA Service, we see him through the eyes of a man who has to cope with his court magic and has been more successful than most.)

By BOBBY WANZER
of the Rochester Royals

When God handed out the physical qualifications for a basketball player, Bob Cousy was overendowed.

He made him 6 feet 1 inch tall with a skinny body, but stubby, powerful legs that can run all night.

He gave him extra large, sensitive hands and a great touch. He gave him a poker face that never tips off his emotions.

Concentration is 90 per cent of defense in basketball, with 10 per cent ability, but against a guy like Cousy it helps to have a prayer. There are some nights when he just can't be stopped. No matter how closely you guard, he's still going to get those weird shots from all angles.

He'll take shots no other player will attempt. And make them. That's where the praying comes in. I've seen him driving for a shot and while in the air shift the ball from his right to his left hand behind his back and flip it backhanded over his left shoulder and into the basket—all in the same fluid motion.

I start off a game by playing him very tight and hope I can worry him. Then if he misses a few early in the game, he might press. Playing him tight has its dangers because he's quick enough to break around and leave you looking silly if you relax the slightest. But it's better than standing off and giving him elbow room because then you invite disaster.

Finest Dribbler

Make the mistake of going for the ball, and he'll back off and switch it to his left hand behind his back on the move and leave you standing holding your hands.

In guarding Cousy I watch his body across the hips. Forget about legs and hands. He'll sucker you with fakes. But he can't make a break in any direction before moving his hips.

Keep the hands high in front of him. That's an elementary principle of defense, but especially so in Couz's case because he's got so many shots. His best is a one-hand push, and lately he's been developing a jump shot to offset the taller guys guarding him. Primarily he's a right-hand shot, but he'll kill you with a southpaw hook if you overplay him to the right.

You have to watch for screens. Against a Cousy I scramble to stay with him and try to switch men as little as possible. The split-second switch of guards is enough for him to shake loose for a shot.

Cousy, contrary to popular belief, hasn't got great speed. That's why quick men like Slater Martin and Ralph Beard, when he was in the league, can give him occasional tough nights. When they make a mistake, they still have the speed to recover and catch up with him.

I don't have that kind of swift. I just try to hang on like a leech.

And, of course, I pray.

Ben Hogan to Star In Movie of Life

Palm Springs, Calif., Feb. 20 (AP)—Golfer Ben Hogan, supported by a million dollars worth of acting talent, will emerge next month as the star of a television movie.

Called "Faith, Hope and Hogan," it was made on a golf course in this desert resort by Father James Keller and his Christophers, Inc. The Christophers, a unique, world-famed group, holds that individuals, working hard as individuals, can change the world into a better place.

Father Keller believes the Hogan story—one of the sports world's most amazing comebacks—will give courage to millions of people faced with handicaps.

Spring Drills Out

New York, Feb. 20 (AP)—Ivy League football teams again will have to wait until Sept. 1 before getting into shape for the 1953 grid season. A brief announcement from Columbia yesterday disclosed that at a recent meeting the presidents of the eight Ivy League schools decided to continue the ban on spring practice started last year. The head of the Ivy group also reaffirmed the present policy of barring athletes from participation in post-season charity games. The Ivy schools also ban participation in bowl games.

Araujo Is Favorite

New York, Feb. 20 (AP)—George Araujo, 22-year-old Providence, R. I., lightweight, rates a 7 to 5 favorite over "Billygoat" Paddy De Marco of Brooklyn tonight in a 10-round match designed to provide a May 15 title foe for champion Jimmy Carter.

O'Connor-Godoy Feature Mat Card

Professional wrestling makes another appearance at municipal auditorium tonight topped by the personal appearance of Pat O'Connor of TV fame.

The Chicago grappler will meet Pedro Godoy of South America in the main event, two out of three falls.

The bill's co-feature pits Jim Austeri, 5 foot, 7 inches, from New York, and the colorful Jack Bence of Pittsfield, Mass., in a two out of three fall tussle.

The curtain-raiser will bring together Ed King of Poughkeepsie, former Seton Hall basketball star, and Johnny Barend of Rochester in a one fall bout or 30 minute distance.

The first bout is scheduled for 8:45 p. m.

Paltz Five Trips Waterbury, 69-63; Donoghue Stars

The New Paltz State Teachers College cagers got back in the victory side of the ledger Thursday afternoon by scoring a close 69 to 63 triumph over Waterbury at the New Paltz college gymnasium.

Willie Donoghue, forward for the New Paltz quintet, emerged as the top scorer and top ball handler.

Takes Early Lead

New Paltz opened with a 22-12 lead at the first quarter and appeared to be well on its way to a lopsided victory when it lead by 37-23 at the halftime.

Some poor ball handling, however, cost the Paltzers several points and they just managed to squeeze by with their six-point lead.

Following Donoghue's 24 point parade came Chet Hutton of New Paltz with 17. Jack Wulff added 14 while Dick King pushed in 11.

Caulfield was high for Waterbury with 16.

New Paltz will be on the road next weekend with a game in Oneonta on Feb. 27 and another with Albany State Teachers College the following day. The next home game for the local college quintet will be Saturday, March 7, against Plattsburg.

Ferraro Blasts 277-724 to Lead Bowlodrome Major League

'Ace' Also Fires 235-213 Games In Heavy Session

Johnny Ferraro led a merry session of pocket-busting in the Ferraro Major League at the Bowlodrome Friday night with a gaudy 277 singleton and a 724 triple.

Ferraro's 724 series was the second straight "700" by the "Ace." He powered Miron Lumber to three straight wins in the Hudson Valley Bowling League last weekend with a 711 blast.

The old maestro opened last night's heavy scoring session with a 235 single, fired his hefty 277 in his middle effort and came back with 212 to complete his hat trick score of 724.

A half dozen 600 scores also were compiled during last night's hectic tenpin action.

Harold Broskie, a member of the KBA's tournament champion Economy Excavators, sizzled for scores of 255 and 637 for runner-up honors. Young Eddie Heins also achieved the hat trick with a solid string of 202-215-216 for 633.

Others hitting the charmed "600" circle included Angie Ferraro with 221-227-622; George "Curly" Flemings 237-612; Eugene Vogel 225-603; and Frank "Tarz" Spada 204-600.

Larry Petersen, Jr., missed the 600 group by three pins as he leveled 597 and a 215 singleton. George Shufeldt followed with 200-203-591 while Cliff Davis hammered the pot-bellied maples for 226-200-590.

The rest of the top scores reported included Ad Jones with 233-585; Tommy Carlino 205-580; Ross Ellis 215-209-580; Charlie "Juice" Manfro, another member of the Excavators, 207-576; Jack Schatzel 233-576; Ken Joseph 214-574; Pete Nagy 223-574 and Bill Murray 202-571.

Hymes Hold Lead

Hymes Shoe still holds a three-game bulge over Elstons while dropping two games to Rafalowskys last night. Elstons, meanwhile, took the measure of the Excavators in three games while shooting 1019 and 2858. Jones Dairy exploded for high triple and single game of the night with 2956 and 1066 while sweeping three from Jay's Shoe Store.

Team results:

Jones Dairy 3, Jay's Shoe Store 0; Garraghan Oil 2, Van's Gas 1; Elstons 3, Economy Excavators 0; Mannie's Barbers 3, Gallop's Jewelers 0; Kaye's Sportwair 2, Hamburger Paradise 1; Rafalowsky's 2, Hymes Shoe 1; Saccoman's 2, United Pharmacy 1.

Lowe Paces Electrol

Johnny Lowe's string of 197-188-180 for 565 was the top effort in the Electrol Night shift Thursday afternoon. Mike Milano, the league secretary, posted 523; G. Dodd 519; G. McKeon 500; H. Brooks 201-499; J. Brooks 491; J. Aiello 487; J. Nau 486; Palmer Brodhead 481; J. Brady 218-480; George Barringer 480 and Bob Emerick 480.

Team results:

Foremen 2, Burring 1; Assembly 3, Plating 1; Mill and Drill 2, Turrets 1; Maintenance 2, Dispatch 1.

Clarence Herdman clicked for games of 196-178-187 to lead the Hercules wheel at the Bowlodrome Thursday with his 561 series. Ten pins behind came Vince Clearwater with 220-551; Joe Dulin 231-522; Ed Smedes 499; G. Bilyou 480; Jim Emmick 475; Chauncey Elliott 470; Joe Fautz 464; J. Kennedy 460 and F. Bourke 455.

Team results:

Powder Line 2, Blasting Caps 1; Maintenance 2, Bob's Diner 1; B & F 2, Short Periods 1.

Percy Slover's 586 blast on the YMCA drives featured this week's schedule of the Federation American League. Slover fired scores of 192-191-203 for his high score.

Also of note were Austin Hitchcock with 200-519; Jim Raymond 502; Dutch Engle 502; Harold Pine 501; Lou Bruhn 497; J. Peterson 495; Craig Plough 495; J. Wolfersteig 494 and L. Brown 491.

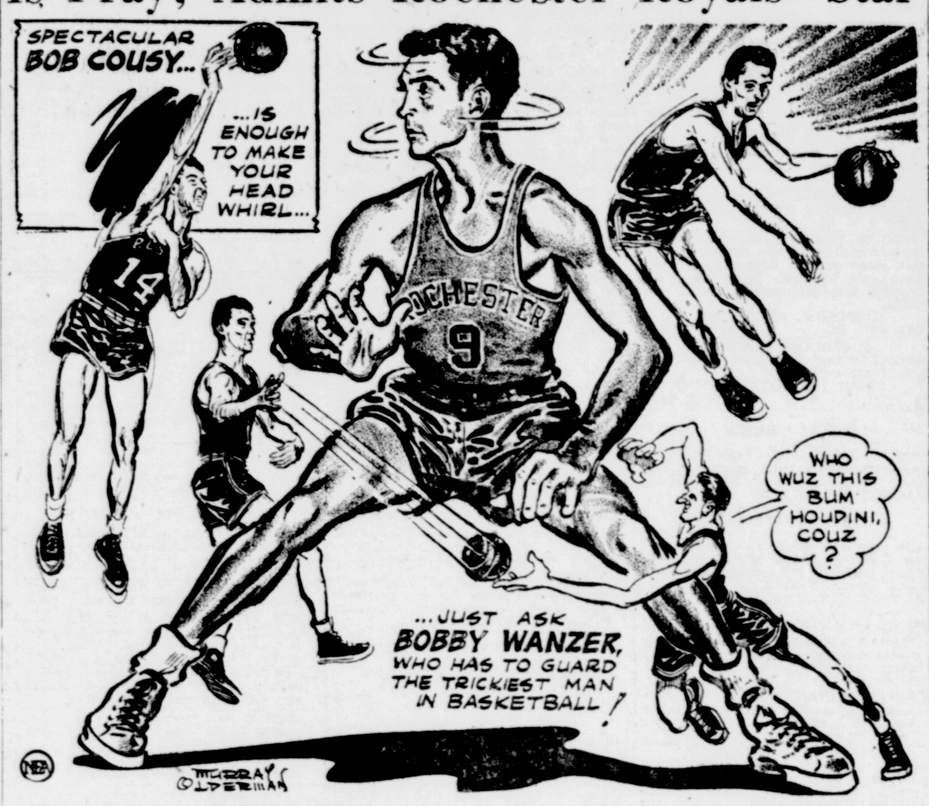
About All Man Can Do Against Bob Cousy Is Pray, Admits Rochester Royals' Star



(The most spectacular basketball player in the world today is Bob Cousy of the professional Boston Celtics. In this exclusive story written for NEA Service, we see him through the eyes of a man who has to cope with his court magic and has been more successful than most.)

By BOBBY WANZER
of the Rochester Royals

When God handed out the physical qualifications for a basketball player, Bob Cousy was overendowed.

He made him 6 feet 1 inch tall with a skinny body, but stubby, powerful legs that can run all night.

He gave him extra large, sensitive hands and a great touch. He gave him a poker face that never tips off his emotions.

Concentration is 90 per cent of defense in basketball, with 10 per cent ability, but against a guy like Cousy it helps to have a prayer. There are some nights when he just can't be stopped. No matter how closely you guard, he's still going to get those weird shots from all angles.

He'll take shots no other player will attempt. And make them. That's where the praying comes in. I've seen him driving for a shot and while in the air shift the ball from his right to his left hand behind his back and flip it backhanded over his left shoulder and into the basket—all in the same fluid motion.

I start off a game by playing him very tight and hope I can worry him. Then if he misses a few early in the game, he might press. Playing him tight has its dangers because he's quick enough to break around and leave you looking silly if you relax the slightest. But it's better than standing off and giving him elbow room because then you invite disaster.

Finest Dribbler

He's the finest dribbler in basketball. There are two things that make him tough. A lot of guys are fancy dribblers when they're standing still. Couz is always moving, and he dribbles as well with his left hand as with his right, maybe better.

Make the mistake of going for the ball, and he'll back off and switch it to his left hand behind his back on the move and leave you standing holding your hands.

In guarding Cousy I watch his body across the hips. Forget about legs and hands. He'll sucker you with fakes. But he can't make a break in any direction before moving his hips.

Keep the hands high in front of him. That's an elementary principle of defense, but especially so in Couz's case because he's got so many shots. His best is a one-hand push, and lately he's been developing a jump shot to offset the taller guys guarding him. Primarily he's a right-hand shot, but he'll kill you with a southpaw hook if you overplay him to the right.

You have to watch for screens. Against a Cousy I scramble to stay with him and try to switch men as little as possible. The split-second switch of guards is enough for him to shake loose for a shot.

Cousy, contrary to popular belief, hasn't got great speed. That's why quick men like Slater Martin and Ralph Beard, when he was in the league, can give him occasional tough nights. When they make a mistake, they still have the speed to recover and catch up with him.

I don't have that kind of swift. I just try to hang on like a leech. And, of course, I pray.

St. Colman's, St. Mary's Advance in CYO Cage Play

St. Colman's of East Kingston captured the 100-pound Catholic Youth Organization basketball championship and St. Joseph's of Kingston won the 120-pound CYO title during the playoff games Thursday night at the MJM Court.

The East Kingston quintet turned back St. Mary's of Kingston by 21 to 19 while St. Joseph's squeaked through to a 30-28 victory over the Immaculate Conception five of Kingston.

Quarter-Finals Next

As a result of last night's playoffs, St. Colman's will go to the New York Archdiocean quarter-finals on March 1 at Cardinal Hayes High School in New York. The East Kingston quintet will oppose the Bronx county champions in the quarter-finals.

St. Joseph's victorious cagers are scheduled to appear in the New York Archdiocesan quarter-finals in Newburgh Feb. 27 against the Orange county champions.

One other contest made up the big program of basketball last night which attracted about 300 spectators, including parents of most of the young boys participating.

In the exhibition fray, St. Mary's, 120-pound team of Kingston, defeated St. Joseph's 100-pound squad from Kingston by 18-17.

Johnny DeCicco paced St. Colman's to their important win last night with high score for his team of eight points. John McCloskey of St. Mary's sparked his club with six.

Turck Drills 23

Individual high scorer last night was Anthony Turck of the maculate Conception quintet who poured in 23 markers. Bill Chase of St. Joseph's collected 12.

Paltz Five Trips Waterbury, 69-63; Donoghue Stars

The New Paltz State Teachers College cagers got back in the victory side of the ledger Thursday afternoon by scoring a close 69 to 63 triumph over Waterbury at the New Paltz college gymnasium.

The Paltzers had dropped both road games last week to Plattsburg and Potsdam.

Willie Donoghue, forward for the New Paltz quintet, emerged as the top scorer and top ball handler.

Takes Early Lead

New Paltz opened with a 22-12 lead at the first quarter and appeared to be well on its way to a lopsided victory when it lead by 37-23 at the halftime.

Some poor ball handling, however, cost the Paltzers several points and they just managed to squeeze by with their six-point lead.

Following Donoghue's 24 point parade came Chet Hutton of New Paltz with 17, Jack Wulff added 14 while Dick King pushed in 11.

Caulfield was high for Waterbury with 16.

New Paltz will be on the road next weekend with a game in Oneonta on Feb. 27 and another with Albany State Teachers College the following day. The next home game for the local college quintet will be Saturday, March 7, against Plattsburg.

Ben Hogan to Star In Movie of Life

Palm Springs, Calif., Feb. 20 (AP)—Golfer Ben Hogan, supported by a million dollars worth of acting talent, will emerge next month as the star of a television movie.

Called "Faith, Hope and Hogan," it was made on a golf course in this desert resort by Father James Keller and his Christophers, Inc. The Christophers, a unique, world-famed group, holds that individuals, working hard as individuals, can change the world into a better place.

Father Keller believes the Hogan story—one of the sports world's most amazing comebacks—will give courage to millions of people faced with handicaps.

Kerhonkson Pool Bid Dates in March

Roland A. Riegel, supervising principal of the Kerhonkson Public Schools, announced at a recent meeting of the Kerhonkson Youth Commission, that he expects bids to be received for a swimming pool project from March 16 to 20.

Plans and specifications for the 40 by 82½ feet pool, he said, will be completed by the week of March 2 through 6.

Representatives of 14 civic groups attended a meeting Feb. 17 in the Indian Valley Inn to further plans for building the pool. Riegel is chairman of the commission.

To Hold Meeting

A mass meeting will be called after costs have been determined, he said, to acquaint area adults with details of the project. After that, the financial drive, now in progress, will be completed.

The commission is composed of 29 adult civic groups from Accord and Kerhonkson and neighboring areas. It develops year-round recreational facilities for children, teen-agers and adults in the Kerhonkson section of the Rondout Valley. It relies on public contributions and assistance from the town of Wawarsing and the state, and hopes the Rochester town board will become interested in its projects because about two thirds of its pupils attend Kerhonkson public schools.

Defense Consolidation Is Effected

and that telephone and "radio people" were on the spot, with portable radios.

"It gave us an idea of what we will need," Timmerman stated. "We are fortunate here that we are not considered a target area." He pointed out that under present plans no able-bodied persons would be permitted to leave New York, that Ulster county would receive children, aged persons, women with small children, some walking injured but no litter cases, and cases of that type.

Will Be Care of People

"Our problem," he said, "will be the care of people who will require more attention than we had thought." He stressed the importance of keeping this aspect of the problem in mind in all civil defense planning.

Mrs. Logan praised the work of Mrs. Barbara Matthews, chief observer of the Kingston post, and the cooperation she had received from many faithful volunteer spotters such as Col. Carl Terry who "has over 200 spotter hours."

She said that despite "trials and tribulations" the post had been able to keep open 24 hours a day. Volunteers had been sought in every way, she said, "but believe me it has been tough." She explained that most of the 165 spotters now serving had been obtained by personal solicitation but that the number was not adequate. She paid Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk a compliment, pointing out that he hadn't missed a single shift since he volunteered, that he even "came back from his vacation" to take his turn.

Mrs. Logan pointed out that many persons who had promised to take shifts had found a "thousand and one excuses" when the showdown came. She urged those at the meeting to spread the word personally among their friends, that "if one woman will tell another, or one man tell another —that's the only way to get spotters."

Classes Are Offered

Henry Bartsch of Kingston, deputy director for communications, asked those at the meeting to seek out in their communities all amateur radio operators and try to interest them in serving in the civil defense organization. He explained that classes in code and theory sufficient to enable the student to pass tests for a commercial license were being offered.

Members of the advisory council were announced as follows: Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk and Chairman of the Ulster County Board of Supervisors Roy Denniston, ex-officio members; Col. Terry, Kingston; Maj. Timmerman, West Shokan; William Rose, Ellenville; Edwin T. Strong, district manager of Central Hudson Gas and Electric Company, Kingston; Charles E. Burnett, manager Kingston office, New York Telephone Company; James R. Clarke, Milton, and Stephen J. Keating.

Committee Appointed

The following committee was appointed to handle arrangements for the proposed mass meeting of citizens in the interests of civil defense: Maj. Hilton, Saugerties, and Ward Tongue, Kingston, co-chairmen; Mrs. Logan; Rose; Strong; Supervisor Frank Elliott, New Paltz; Clarke; Timmerman; Mayor Newkirk and Supervisor Denniston, ex-officio members.

Under the consolidated plan Sherwood Davis will serve as associate director for the city and Howard F. Shurter as associate director for Ulster county. The following will serve as deputy directors: Police, Sheriff Cluett Schantz; fire, Chief Joseph L. Murphy of the Kingston Fire Department; fire coordinator, Arthur Chipp; Kerhonkson; public works, Roland Green; medical and radiological, Dr. Dudley W. Hargraves; Transportation, John Pope, Kingston; communications, Henry Bartsch, Kingston; welfare and recreation, Edward Murray, Kingston, and Philip Schantz, Highland.

The plan is only in the beginning stages, Director Hanstein pointed out, explaining that other officers and directors would be announced as the organization takes shape.

Schifano Counsel Asks Postponement

An application for inspection of the grand jury minutes in the Samuel Schifano manslaughter, first degree, case which was to have been heard by Justice Kenneth MacAffer today at special term in Albany, has been adjourned until March 2. The application will be heard at chambers at that time.

Postponement of the application was requested by Senator Harry Gittelson of New York, counsel for Schifano. Senator Gittelson asked for a postponement because of his legislative duties at this time. Charles Gaffney of this city appears with Senator Gittleson.

Schifano is charged with having caused the death of Mrs. Emelia Nusca, 52, at her home near Highland last June. He too was injured but recovered. In the house where the act took plaee state troopers found a hatchet and knife near the two persons.

Six Persons Killed

Jakarta, Indonesia, Feb. 20 (AP)—Reports received here today said that six persons were killed, four wounded and 113 houses burned in an attack on the West Java mountain town of Gareot, 120 miles southeast of here. The attack was one of several this week blamed on a stepup in activity of the fantastic Moslem "Darul Islam" guerrilla movement.

Contract Awarded

Wiesbaden, Germany, Feb. 20 (AP)—The U. S. Air Force today announced it has awarded a contract to the Fiat Corporation of Italy to manufacture spare parts for J-35 jet engines. The contract calls for delivery this summer of "more than nine million dollars worth" of items for North Atlantic Organization nations. Engineers of the Allison Division, General Motors Corporation, will give technical assistance.

Punishment Promised

Singapore, Feb. 20 (AP)—The Singapore government warned today it would punish any persons shipping supplies to the Finnish tanker Wiima, anchored 20 miles out, without an export permit. The tanker, carrying 7,000 tons of strategic jet fuel originally consigned to Red China, has been anchored outside the territorial waters of this free port since Feb. 11, even though authorities declare it runs no risk of seizure if it comes in.

Kerhonkson Pool Bid Dates in March

Roland A. Riegel, supervising principal of the Kerhonkson Public Schools, announced at a recent meeting of the Kerhonkson Youth Commission, that he expects bids to be received for a swimming pool project from March 16 to 20.

Plans and specifications for the 40 by 82½ feet pool, he said, will be completed by the week of March 2 through 6.

Representatives of 14 civic groups attended a meeting Feb. 17 in the Indian Valley Inn to further plans for building the pool. Riegel is chairman of the commission.

To Hold Meeting

A mass meeting will be called after costs have been determined, he said, to acquaint area adults with details of the project. After that, the financial drive, now in progress, will be completed.

The commission is composed of 29 adult civic groups from Accord and Kerhonkson and neighboring areas. It develops year-round recreational facilities for children, teen-agers and adults in the Kerhonkson section of the Rondout Valley. It relies on public contributions and assistance from the town of Wawarsing and the state, and hopes the Rochester town board will become interested in its projects because about two thirds of its pupils attend Kerhonkson public schools.

Conant Visits Heidelberg

Heidelberg, Germany, Feb. 20 (AP)—Dr. James Bryant Conant, new U. S. high commissioner for Germany, paid his first visit to the U. S. army's European headquarters here today. After a 19-gun salute, Conant reviewed headquarters troops and was given a lengthy briefing by Lt. Gen. Manton S. Eddy, commander of American troops in Europe.

Defense Consolidation Is Effected

and that telephone and "radio people" were on the spot, with portable radios.

"It gave us an idea of what we will need," Timmerman stated. "We are fortunate here that we are not considered a target area." He pointed out that under present plans no able-bodied persons would be permitted to leave New York, that Ulster county would receive children, aged persons, women with small children, some walking injured but no litter cases, and cases of that type.

Will Be Care of People

"Our problem," he said, "will be the care of people who will require more attention than we had thought." He stressed the importance of keeping this aspect of the problem in mind in all civil defense planning.

Mrs. Logan praised the work of Mrs. Barbara Matthews, chief observer of the Kingston post, and the cooperation she had received from many faithful volunteer spotters such as Col. Carl Terry who "has over 200 spotter hours."

She said that despite "trials and tribulations" the post had been able to keep open 24 hours a day. Volunteers had been sought in every way, she said, "but believe me it has been tough." She explained that most of the 165 spotters now serving had been obtained by personal solicitation but that the number was not adequate. She paid Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk a compliment, pointing out that he hadn't missed a single shift since he volunteered, that he even "came back from his vacation" to take his turn.

Mrs. Logan pointed out that many persons who had promised to take shifts had found a "thousand and one excuses" when the showdown came. She urged those at the meeting to spread the word personally among their friends, that "if one woman will tell another, or one man tell another—that's the only way to get spotters."

Classes Are Offered

Henry Bartsch of Kingston, deputy director for communications, asked those at the meeting to seek out in their communities all amateur radio operators and try to interest them in serving in the civil defense organization. He explained that classes in code and theory sufficient to enable the student to pass tests for a commercial license were being offered.

Members of the advisory council were announced as follows: Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk and Chairman of the Ulster County Board of Supervisors Roy Denniston, ex-officio members; Col. Terry, Kingston; Maj. Timmerman, West Shokan; William Rose, Ellenville; Edwin T. Strong, district manager of Central Hudson Gas and Electric Company, Kingston; Charles E. Burnett, manager Kingston office, New York Telephone Company; James R. Clarke, Milton, and Stephen J. Keating.

Committee Appointed

The following committee was appointed to handle arrangements for the proposed mass meeting of citizens in the interests of civil defense: Maj. Hilton, Saugerties, and Ward Tongue, Kingston, co-chairmen; Mrs. Logan; Rose; Strong; Supervisor Frank Elliott, New Paltz; Clarke; Timmerman; Mayor Newkirk and Supervisor Denniston, ex-officio members.

Under the consolidated plan Sherwood Davis will serve as associate director for the city and Howard F. Shurter as associate director for Ulster county. The following will serve as deputy directors: Police, Sheriff Cluett Schantz; fire, Chief Joseph L. Murphy of the Kingston Fire Department; fire coordinator, Arthur Chipp; Kerhonkson; public works, Roland Green; medical and radiological, Dr. Dudley W. Hargraves; Transportation, John Pope, Kingston; communications, Henry Bartsch, Kingston; welfare and recreation, Edward Murray, Kingston, and Philip Schantz, Highland.

The plan is only in the beginning stages, Director Hanstein pointed out, explaining that other officers and directors would be announced as the organization takes shape.

Schifano Counsel Asks Postponement

An application for inspection of the grand jury minutes in the Samuel Schifano manslaughter, first degree, case which was to have been heard by Justice Kenneth MacAffer today at special term in Albany, has been adjourned until March 2. The application will be heard at chambers at that time.

Postponement of the application was requested by Senator Harry Gittelson of New York, counsel for Schifano. Senator Gittelson asked for a postponement because of his legislative duties at this time. Charles Gaffney of this city appears with Senator Gittleson.

Hurley Will Hold Drive for Holland

Representatives of organizations in the village of Hurley met on Thursday evening and voted to participate in a drive to aid The Netherlands in its flood rehabilitation program.

The meeting was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Davis. Among those present, in addition to the hosts, were Harold Cubberly, Mrs. Isaac Rosa, Mrs. Russell Cunningham, Percy Osterhoudt, George Dixon, Mrs. Charles Messenger, Mrs. Frank Race, Charles Relyea, town supervisor, and the Rev. John Dykstra of the Hurley Reformed Church were also present on invitation.

Organizations represented were the Fire Company, the Hurley School, Hurley Grange, Parents' Club, Ladies' Aid, Berean Class, Missionary Society, the Couples' Club, Community Service Club and the consistory of the church.

Rev. Dykstra Chairman

The Rev. Mr. Dykstra was asked to serve as chairman. He related the details of a letter recently received from a Dutch school teacher, John DenDunnen, with whom he has corresponded for several years.

DenDunnen's letter described the flood in The Netherlands and its effect upon his countrymen. He stated that although the village of Randwijk, province of Gelderland, where he lived, was not inundated, many of the people of his country were in serious plight, and all Holland was endeavoring to assist in the work of reconstruction.

To Hold Card Party

After some discussion, it was decided to ask each of the local organizations to give as they could to this cause. It was further agreed to hold a community card party for the benefit of The Netherlands on Monday, March 16, at the firehouse.

In announcing the committee's plans, the Rev. Mr. Dykstra this morning said, "It is hoped that the people of Hurley will cooperate in this worthy venture so that a sizeable amound of funds needed in this crisis may be sent directly to Queen Juliana from this village, whose earliest residents came from that land."

To Build Relay System

New York, Feb. 20 (AP)—The American Telephone and Telegraph Company plans to build a radio relay system between New York city and Albany to provide additional television network channels. The company, announcing the plan yesterday, said the new link will have three northbound and two southbound TV channels. It will connect with the newly-constructed Albany-Buffalo microwave system and provide a second radio relay route westward from New York city. The new link is expected to go into service late this year. Along with rearrangements of existing facilities, it also will permit additional circuits for telephone use.

Canada Cuts Tax

critic for the opposition complained that the budget gave virtually no tax relief to lower income brackets.

Canadian income taxes in the lower levels tend to be lower than similar levels in the United States. However, no clear-cut comparison is possible because Canada has an important revenue-producing tax which is not used in the United States. This is a 10 per cent sale tax at the factory level on almost all goods except food. This helps increase the price of automobiles, stoves and many other things over the prices prevailing in the United States and thus becomes in effect an additional tax on the consumer.

Take Effect At Once

Some of the tax relief measures go into effect immediately. By July 1, when the big income tax cut will be felt, it is estimated that about two-thirds of the Canadian taxes imposed following the outbreak of the Korean war in 1950 will have been removed.

The new program eliminates a 10 per cent sales tax on newsprint for domestic consumers only, providing no reduction for U. S. newsprint buyers. It also trims an estimated one million dollars a year in import tariffs on manufactured articles, most of them bought in the U. S.

Abbott announced the tax cuts of 237 million would reduce revenues to $4,473,000,000 and his surplus to 11 million dollars.

The estimated revenues for the fiscal year beginning April 1, however, will still top the 1952-53 record of $4,375,600,000 despite the huge tax slash. The expenditure of $4,462,000,000 for the coming fiscal year provide just over two billion dollars for defense. In the last fiscal year Canada spent a total of $4,327,000,000.

Missing Children

rado across western Nebraska to Minnesota.

The storm, with northerly winds in some parts of Nebraska reaching gusts of 57 miles an hour, swept eastward. Near blizzard conditions were forecast for north central areas.

Temperatures tumbled to near zero and below in the storm belt, with a low of —4 at Miles City, Mont. The cold air extended as far south as the Texas Panhandle. Snow fell from upper Michigan to Colorado, with amounts ranging from a foot at Cheyenne to five inches at Wausau, Wis.

The storm center, located near Omaha early today, also brought dust storms to the southern plains and showers and thunderstorms over the eastern plains and lower Missouri valley.

Mild weather continued through the Mississippi valley as far north as southern Wisconsin, in the Ohio Valley and in the Central Gulf States.

Most card players in the United States think of South American card players as Canasta enthusiasts. Acutally Contract Bridge is very popular in most of the countries of South America. Today's hand is typical of South American bridge.

The hero of the hand was George Cardenas, whose home is in Colombia but who plays regularly in New York's famous Regency Club. George plays his cards very well, but he has a Latin disregard for such things as conservative bidding.

When George likes the look of a hand, he'll bid a slam with it—as he did with the hand shown today—where most American experts would bid only a game.

He then ran every single one of his trumps, discarding all of the diamonds from the dummy.

Meanwhile East and West were having their troubles. Both defenders hastened to get rid of their hearts. That part of the discarding was easy. But when South led his last trump everybody had to reduce his hand to four cards. This wasn't easy.

West felt that he had to save his three spades just in case South had three spades to the aceten. Hence West could save only one diamond.

East felt that he had to save three spades in case South had started the hand with three spades to the ace, particularly A-J-x. Hence East, likewise, saved only one diamond.

After Cardenas had led out his last trump his last four cards were the ace and five of spades and two little diamonds. He then led the deuce of diamonds, and had the satisfaction of seeing West drop the queen and East play the ace.

He could then win the spade return with the ace, cash a heart-warming trick with the three of diamonds, and win the last trick with dummy's king of spades.
